

Parliament Session Announced For Dec. 5

Ramadier Wins Confidence Vote To Keep Centre

PARIS (AP)—Premier Paul Ramadier's Coalition government tonight won a vote of confidence from the French National Assembly in Ramadier's move to steer the country between the extremes of communism and De Gaulism.

The margin of victory was narrow, the Premier winning by 20 votes after two days of oratorical attacks from the Communist left and De Gaulists of the right.

The official vote of the National Assembly was 300 in favor, 280 against, 18 abstentions, and 20 absences.

The three parties from which Ramadier had hoped to draw his support represent a majority in the 619-member Assembly, but the figures were complicated by the fact that some members of those parties now are followers of Gen. de Gaulle, victor in the recent municipal elections.

Ramadier opened his fight for the life of his government Tuesday in the Assembly, assailing De Gaulle as a modern "Caesar" and wrangling with the Communists in a fist-shaking, screaming debate.

Referring to De Gaulle and the general's new political party, the Rassemblement du Peuple Français (R.P.F.), Ramadier jibed: "A new party exists. We will know in a few days its parliamentary strength. Perhaps some day we will be informed of its policy. We know it has a chief."

Delayed By Strike

LIVERPOOL (CP)—The liner Empress of Canada sailed for Montreal today after being delayed almost 24 hours by a seamen's strike.

The liner pulled away from the docks on schedule Tuesday, but anchored in the Mersey overnight when she was unable to obtain 16 engine-room replacements.

The men struck for five concessions, including a return to the wartime reserve pool system for seamen and a system of rotary hiring.

The ship finally obtained replacements and moved out to sea shortly after noon today.

No More Public Funds

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government's political propaganda arm, the Social Credit Board, is on the way out. It was learned today that last week's caucus of government members set the end of the present fiscal year as the deadline for disconnecting the board's activities from government affairs.

23 Countries Sign Biggest Trade Treaty In History

GENEVA (Reuters)—Twenty-three countries, including Canada, today signed the biggest multilateral trade pact ever negotiated, described by Max Suetens of Belgium, who presided at the ceremony, as "a landmark in the economic development of the world."

Detailed terms of the treaty, binding the United States, Britain and other leading trading powers to tariff concessions covering between 76 and 86 per cent of their total import trade, will remain secret until Nov. 18.

PREFERENCES CUT

It is known, however, that Britain, Canada and other Commonwealth countries have cut tariffs and imperial preferences in return for concessions from the United States and other countries.

"We are witnessing the birth of the first fruits of postwar international action towards reorienting international trade on constructive and productive lines," Suetens said.

The signing of the official pact today marks the completion of the most progressive, most significant and most far-reaching negotiations ever undertaken in the history of world trade.

Women Suggest Working Out Tax On Roads

Two housewives walked into the City Hall today and said they were willing to do "pick and shovel work" in lieu of paying the road tax so that they could vote at the next municipal elections.

The women, Mrs. D. Clarke, 967 North Park Street, and Mrs. D. Blakely, 1521 Jubilee Avenue, protested against the Municipal Elections Act which requires housewives as well as working single women to pay a $2 road tax for the right to vote.

"We are willing to do $2 worth of road work instead of paying the road tax," said the women to a surprised clerk. "We can't afford to pay $2 with the cost of living rising every day."

The women thought it was unfair that they should have to pay a road tax in order to vote when their husbands were also paying a poll tax and road tax.

They were informed by a tax expert who was called upon to deal with the case that housewives were not obliged to pay the road tax. He added, however, that they would have to pay their $2 if they wanted the right to vote.

"The road tax was enforced only in the case of working women, but not for housewives, but all had to pay the tax if they wanted to vote," he told the pair.

As for working on the roads in lieu of paying the tax, the tax expert had no answer as there was nothing in the act which stipulated they could do so.

"We are not advocating the payment of road taxes by housewives," said Mrs. Blakely, "but unless the law is enforced to include them, many won't bother to pay $2 for the right to vote."

"We are not too enthusiastic about doing road work, but we'll do it, if it is necessary, rather than pay the tax which we consider unfair," Mrs. Blakely added.

Firemen Dodge Timbers As Grain Goes Up In Smoke

Grain was destroyed and damage estimated at $100,000 was caused at Paincourt, Ont., when flames raced through the town's elevator and other buildings. The blaze, shown here at its height, was fought by Chatham, Ont., firemen and farmers who kept out of the way of falling timbers as the elevator tower collapsed.

Storekeepers Seek Meeting Of Union, B.C.E.R., Wismer

Retail merchants in Vancouver will demand that Acting Mayor Charles Jones immediately attempt to call a meeting of officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. and the Street Railwaymen's Union with Labor Minister Gordon S. Wismer and himself in an effort to halt the strike of 2,850 Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster B.C. Electric transit workers.

Decision of their course of action was reached today after a meeting of a retailers' delegation with Mr. Wismer. Mr. Wismer assured the delegation his full support to any effort to end the strike, now in its 11th day.

Meanwhile Lloyd Easler, president of the Vancouver local of the S.R.U., said "the union would consider" any move by the labor minister toward conciliation.

Officials of the B.C. Electric have announced they would accept arbitration by Mr. Wismer if the union would agree with the company to make the findings binding on both sides.

Mr. Easler said Wednesday night that he could not say if the union would agree to arbitration with the results binding, but if there was a possibility of a good settlement it would be considered.

Concern of Vancouver merchants over the strike was expressed to Mr. Wismer by the delegation of the Retail Merchants' Association, for which George R. Matthews, secretary-manager, was spokesman.

Mr. Matthews said sales of some Vancouver stores had fallen off by as much as 50 per cent this week because of the strike and some stores had already effected lay-offs with many others having to follow if the strike continued.

Purpose of the meeting with Mr. Wismer was to determine what action could be taken in an effort to halt the strike. Mr. Wismer admitted that there was no available machinery to halt the strike, but suggested the meetings of Mayor Jones and himself with the two parties.

Mr. Matthews said Mr. Wismer's suggestion would be acted on immediately.

The delegation, while saying nothing about wages and the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, did admit that streetcar and bus fares should be increased equitably to compensate for any increase in wages gained by the men.

"We are not taking sides," Mr. Matthews emphasized.

The delegation expressed the opinion that some machinery should be set up to deal with strikes involving public utilities.

"This thing could go on for months at great inconvenience to the public and the retailers," Mr. Matthews said.

The strike today became the second longest urban transit tie-up in the history of the three cities. Of the two other strikes, the more recent one, early in 1945, lasted 10 days. The first urban transit strike lasted 25 days during 1919.

The union is demanding a 20-cent across-the-board wage increase and 40-hour work week. The best company offer to date is a 10-cents-an-hour wage boost and a gradual reduction of hours to 40 per week.

At the same time the threat of a further tie-up in Vancouver's transportation system loomed as the Street Railwaymen's Union announced that negotiations were underway with the Pacific Stage Lines—operated by the B.C.E.R.—for a new wage agreement for 150 bus drivers, ticket collectors and baggage clerks.

The bus lines serve districts outside the city limits and are the only remaining public transportation link with West Vancouver on the north shore. The bus line employees, members of the Street Railwaymen's Union, also are seeking a 20-cent hourly wage increase.

Cameramen Injured

PARIS (AP)—The Inter-Ailed War Correspondents' Association has protested to the prefect of police that police violence caused injury to nine photographers during Tuesday's mass Communist demonstration.

Anti-Trust Suits Entered Against 17 U.S. Bank Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Clark today announced the filing of a civil anti-trust suit against 17 of the largest investment banking firms in New York. The suit charges a conspiracy to monopolize the handling of securities issues.

In addition, the government asks for dissolution of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, which maintains headquarters in Chicago.

Clark told a press conference the suit is "one of the largest and most important in the history of the anti-trust laws."

The complaint alleges the 17 banking firms "have conspired to restrain unreasonably and to monopolize the securities business in this country by restricting, controlling and fixing the channels and methods, the prices, terms and conditions upon which security issues are merchandised."

The securities were described in the suit as covering "stocks, notes, bonds, debentures, or other interest certificates."

The defendants have their principal offices in New York and many maintain branch offices elsewhere. They were named as: Morgan Stanley and Company; Kuhn Loeb and Company; Eastman, Dillon and Company; Kidder, Peabody and Company; Goldman, Sachs and Company; Lehman Brothers, Smith, Barney and Company; Glueck, Forgan and Company; White Weld and Company; Drexel and Company; The First Boston Corporation; Dillon, Read and Company Inc.; Blyth and Company Inc.; Harriman

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—A seven-year reclamation construction program for the United States involving expenditure of $2,148,000,000 was proposed today to the National Reclamation Association in a speech by Secretary of the Interior Krug. ### Locate Wreckage Of Plane, Bodies Of Oregon Officials

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—The wreckage of a plane carrying Governor Earl Snell of Oregon and two other top officials and the pilot was reached by a search party today and there were no survivors, Fremont Forest supervisor Merle Lowden said today.

Lowden said that Ranger Jack Smith, with the party at the wreckage, reported by portable radio that the aircraft had been completely demolished and four bodies were found.

CARRIED ON LITTERS

Lowden said the bodies were being brought on litters from the wreckage by a party of some 100 men.

The wreckage was found in heavily timbered country, 70 miles east of here and a few miles north of the Oregon-California border.

Those who were aboard the plane with the 52-year-old Governor Snell were: State Senate President Marshall Cornett, 49, who was next in line of succession to the governorship; Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr., 41, and Cliff Hogue, 42, Klamath Falls, pilot.

SPEAKER TAKES OFFICE

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—John Hubert Hall, 48, Portland attorney, automatically assumed the Oregon governorship today when the body of Earl Snell, serving his second term as governor, was found in the wreckage of a crashed plane. Hall is a Republican, as are all of Oregon's top officials.

He assumed the governorship by virtue of his position as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Hall will hold office until a successor to Snell's unfinished term is chosen in November, 1948.

Dread Epidemic Stalks Egypt

Mother and child, victims of the cholera epidemic in Egypt, are shown as they sit forlornly in their home at Syriacos. More than 16,000 deaths have been recorded by the Egyptian government in the five weeks casualties of the epidemic have been listed. Seventeen nations have sent aid to the stricken country.

Trade Treaties, Wartime Powers Need Attention

OTTAWA (CP)—The government decided today to call Parliament into session Dec. 5, almost two months ahead of schedule, to deal with business requiring "immediate attention."

In disclosing the cabinet's decision at a press conference just before his departure for Europe, Prime Minister King also made a series of additional announcements.

These included:

1. Appointment of six new parliamentary assistants — to the ministers of health, external affairs, labor, agriculture, finance and revenue—and decision to ask Parliament to provide for the appointment of four more.

2. That the Dominion had sent the Newfoundland government a new "statement" on the negotiations regarding Newfoundland's entry into Confederation, which he expected to be made public here and in St. John's within a fortnight.

3. That he hopes to deliver a broadcast from London Nov. 18 when the terms of Canada's new trade agreements with 17 countries are made public.

4. That the chief business to be placed immediately before Parliament will be the trade treaties and the extension of the government's emergency powers.

5. That Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Minister of External Affairs, will be Acting Prime Minister during the absence of Mr. King, who expects to return to Canada a few days before the opening of Parliament.

6. That he expects the gathering of Empire government leaders in London for the royal wedding will materialize into something of an informal Empire conference. Also, he hopes to attend meetings of the British cabinet to obtain first-hand information on conditions in Britain.

Marshall Cleaning Up Program Of Aid To Europe For Congress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Marshall returned to his desk today to take a leading role in shaping final recommendations to the United States Congress for a four-year European recovery program that may cost up to $20,000,000,000.

The program he and other top administration officials are due to turn out within the next week is expected to be laid before congressional committees Nov. 10 with the argument that it offers a "reasonable" chance of saving Europe from economic disaster and preventing a vast westward extension of Russian communism.

Marshall later will leave for London and the Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference on a German peace treaty.

BROADLY OUTLINED

Diplomatic and economic officials say that while almost no final decisions have been made, the broad outlines of the "Marshall Plan" already are well laid down. In general and subject to last-minute changes, they cover these main points to be laid before Congress when the special session opens Nov. 17:

1. The United States would make available to Europe next year a combination of relief and recovery supplies totaling about $6,000,000,000. Relief supplies such as food would be given free. Recovery supplies such as factory machinery would be financed with loans.

2. Beyond the first year and possibly the second it will be impossible to forecast accurately the amount of help Europe will need because of changing conditions. Congress thus would be asked each year for only the next year's funds, these to be based on constantly revised estimates.

4-YEAR GOAL

3. As proposed by the European countries themselves, the sums from the United States would decrease each year as recovery progress was made. Both U.S. and European officials would try to make certain of successful recovery at the end of four years.

4. In addition to U.S. government financing the plan calls for some reconstruction loans from the World Bank. There is also considerable hope here that other countries, such as Canada and Argentina, might help with their own financing to permit Europe to buy needed products from them.

Committee Proposes World-Wide Powers For 'Little Assembly'

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—The important sub-committee drafting plans for the proposed new "Little Assembly" of the United Nations neared the end of its work today after deciding that world-wide powers of investigation into peace and security questions should be given this year-round group.

The sub-committee, under chairmanship of Canada's L. B. Pearson, limited investigating powers, however, in two ways:

1. Any decision to conduct an investigation would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority rule of the "Little Assembly."

2. Inquiries to be made away from U.N. headquarters could not be made "without the consent of the state or states in whose territory it is to take place."

RUSSIA OBJECTS

This sub-committee, which is boycotted by Russia and Czechoslovakia although they are members, is making more rapid progress than any other committee at present in session at U.N. and is drawing wide attention.

Before it winds up its task and reports to the political committee, it still has to decide the question of the relative jurisdiction of the "Little Assembly" and the Security Council. "This is the most delicate issue in the entire plan. The political committee itself today went on with the debate on Korean independence, trying to reach a decision as to whether or not representatives of the Korean people should be heard by the U.N. and how these representatives should be chosen.

AGREEMENT NEEDED

Canada Wednesday participated in the argument when J. A. Bradette, Liberal member of Parliament for Cochrane, Ont., said the attainment of a truly united and independent Korea depended on agreement between Russia and the United States, the two occupying powers, aided by the U.N. rather than on bringing Koreans here to plead for independence.

2 Children Drowned At Aklavik, N.W.T.

EDMONTON (CP)—The Canadian Army's northland signals branch received word here today that two children were drowned at Aklavik, N.W.T., in the Mackenzie River. The children, Lee Humley, three, and Ronald MacNiece, two, playing on the frozen-over river, fell into an open cut, an area from which ice had been taken. Parents of both children live at Aklavik. No further details were available at Edmonton.

Fireworks Burn Garage; Noisiest Hallowe'en In Years Expected Here

Fire Chief Robert Brindle today pointed to the fire-damaged garage at the home of N. A. Hutton, 3146 Cook Street, earlier this week as an example of what can happen when children throw firecrackers about indiscriminately. The loss would have been much greater had the car been in the garage. Luckily, the family was out in that night.

With fireworks back on the market in large quantities, Victoria and district tomorrow night should have quite a noisy atmosphere.

Police forces of Greater Victoria will be out in full force patrolling the various districts and will be on the watch to apprehend youngsters who do wilful damage in their Hallowe'en frolicking. Fire departments will be on the alert to attend fire alarms during the night.

With the transportation strike on, it is the belief of police that there will be a great deal more activity in the residential districts of the city and in the municipalities this year, rather than a heavy concentration in the downtown area.

Princess Launches Big Ship; Future Husband Attends

GLASGOW (CP) — Princess Elizabeth today paid tribute to the "affection and loyalty" of the Commonwealth as she launched the 34,000-ton north Atlantic liner Caronia.

A sharp burst of cold rain fell as the Princess pressed a trigger to start the towering grey and red-brown hull into the water. The first to wave as the Cunard White Star Line vessel shuddered and started to move was Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, the Princess's fiancé.

In a brief speech the Princess expressed happiness that on her third visit to Clydebank, "my future husband is by my side."

"Lieut. Mountbatten and I are here at a time when, in spite of all Great Britain's achievements, she is confronted with difficulties and dangers of a kind we never had to face before," she said.

As in 1940, when the United Kingdom stood alone, "we have got to win this battle ourselves."

"We have gratefully learned in the last few months that we can count on the support of the Commonwealth and Empire just as surely in peace as we could in war," she continued.

"I cannot speak too highly of the eagerness with which they have sought to help us, so often at their own expense, in the assistance which they have given their mother country the Dominions and colonies have shown an affection and loyalty Britain will never forget."

She appealed to workers to keep alive the spirit of unity "which kept us from despondency and brightened our darkest days in the war."

"It is only by putting claims of our country far above our personal feelings that we can win through as surely as we did before," she said.

The Caronia, with cabin and first classes, will carry 1,000 passengers. She is the second ship of the name built by John Brown's. The first Caronia, of 20,000 tons, was launched 43 years ago.

John Brown has been negotiating with Canadian Pacific Steamships to build a 20,000-tonner on the ways left vacant by the Caronia, but W. M. Neal, Canadian Pacific Railway president who has just completed a United Kingdom tour, said he found shipbuilding prices were too high.

Transient Confesses Murder Of Tacoma Mother, Daughter, 18

TACOMA, Wash. — A mother and her 18-year-old daughter were found brutally slain early today in their south-side home, and police Lieut. Earl Cornelison said a 45-year-old transient had confessed to the slaying.

Cornelison identified the victims as Mrs. Bertha Kludt, 53, a widow, and her daughter, Beverly June Kludt, 18.

Both women had been struck on the back of the head with a heavy instrument.

The man, who Cornelison said identified himself as Jake Bird, was captured in a clump of brush near the Kludt home. He carried a large spike.

The mother's body was found in a bedroom, and the girl's body on the kitchen floor.

Bird put up a terrific battle before he was captured, wounding two police officers with the spike, and he also suffered head and face cuts. All three were sent to hospital.

Police said the man entered the Kludt home through an unlatched kitchen door. Mrs. Kludt screamed when the intruder molested her in bed, and her daughter was killed when she went to her aid. A neighbor heard the screams and called police.

Beverly June had attended a Baptist church prayer meeting Wednesday night.

$500,000 Shipment Of Canadian Food To Europe Shortly

MONTREAL (CP) — Half of the Canadian Red Cross $1,000,000 food relief shipment to Britain and Europe is expected to be on the seas by the middle of November. H. H. Bishop, chairman of the National purchasing committee, today told the meeting of the Red Cross central council.

Delegates from every province met in the semi-annual two-day session, which will close tomorrow night.

Mr. Bishop said representatives of the countries concerned have already specified what types of bulk food are most necessary, and purchases have been made accordingly for the shipment designed to ease the expected winter food crisis.

Dr. R. W. I. Urquhart, national chairman of first aid, swimming and water safety, reported that in the first nine months of this year a total of 16,595 children across Canada were taught water safety under Red Cross auspices. This was one-third more than in the whole of 1946. Altogether 692 instructors held 1,365 classes.

Increased cost of materials has affected the women's work committee, said Miss Orian Warwick, national chairman.

She reported that a total of 1,234 cases of clothing and other supplies from women's work committees throughout Canada was shipped between June 1 and Sept. 30 to Britain and Europe for relief distribution. Clothing to the value of $156,000 has also been purchased for British relief and most of it has already been shipped.

Jap Admiral To Die

HONGKONG (AP) — Admiral Sakonju Maomasa, Japanese commander of the Southeast Asia Naval District, was sentenced to death by a war crimes tribunal today for the slaying of about 65 survivors of the British ship Behar in the Indian Ocean in 1944. Capt. Mayazumi Haruo was given from one to seven years for his part in the atrocity.

Weapons manufacturer Melvin M. Johnson (above) has announced formation of a firm to analyze military needs of all governments approved by the U.S. State Department, and to supply or procure materials. ## Associated Trade Boards Advocate Long-Term Road Building Program

Initial steps for getting all island boards of trade and chambers of commerce to agree on a long term plan for the construction of new roads were taken in Nanaimo Wednesday at a meeting of the executive council of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island.

In asking for the support of all boards to such a plan, H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, noted that, so far, every trade group has been pulling apart from the others by asking for roads in its own immediate district. The government has done nothing because it has received so many requests from individual boards that it thinks the people of the island do not know what they want, he said.

This sentiment was reiterated by George H. Benwell, vice-president of the A.B.T.V.I., who said: "We have all been fighting our own little fight as far as roads are concerned. The government, in an attempt to satisfy all of us, has just been doing patchwork by dumping loads of gravel down on the roads we already have."

Pressing his case further, Mr. Holmes said: "This island was first settled 104 years ago. Yet, in three generations, we have only secured one road which runs up the east coast for only half the length of the whole island."

"We are interested in getting this island to grow and prosper," he continued. "However, where there are no roads there is no life and where there is no life there is no progress."

Explaining his ideas for the development of new roads, Mr. Holmes noted that the present east coast highway from Victoria to Sayward would serve as a "backbone." He said the roads from Qualicum Beach and Parksville to Alberni and Port Alberni, and the road from Duncan to Cowichan Lake should be considered part of the backbone.

"The thing for us to do is to build out ribs from what we already have."

CIRCUIT ROADS

Mr. Holmes proposed the establishment of circuit roads over a period of 10 years. He suggested the first loop should go from Victoria to Shawnigan Lake to Jordan River back to Victoria, a distance of 97 miles. It was noted there is already a road from Shawnigan Lake which goes halfway across the island.

"Twelve or 15 miles of new road is all that is needed to make this loop a reality," Mr. Holmes said. "The new road could be completed within a year at a very low cost. It would certainly be a start."

As a second suggestion, Mr. Holmes proposed that the existing road out Shawnigan Lake toward the west coast be extended to Port Renfrew and that the road be taken from here to Jordan River. This loop would cover 128 miles and would take in Victoria, Shawnigan Lake, Port Renfrew and Jordan River. The third suggestion would require the construction of a new road from Cowichan Lake to Port Renfrew and down to Jordan River. The entire circuit would cover about 164 miles.

In recommending these loop plans, Mr. Holmes spoke of their value in drawing tourist traffic from the United States. "Visitors do not want to drive up a road and then back down it. They want to drive where they can see something new every mile."

"The people who come to travel over the first loop will provide us, I believe, with enough money to build a second loop," he said.

Mr. Holmes and Mr. Benwell and Norman Tesky of Courtenay were appointed to give further study to the recommendations submitted and to consider plans from other boards.

SAANICH MARINE DRIVE

A request from the Sidney and North Saanich Board of Trade to have Marine Drive extended to make a complete loop of the Saanich Peninsula was forwarded to this committee, as was their request for endorsement of their action in seeking the construction of an express highway from Patricia Bay airport to Victoria.

Seven resolutions submitted to the council asking support in getting the Dominion government to carry out the construction of breakwaters and wharves in their areas were turned over to a three-man committee for study.

One resolution of this nature, submitted by the Campbell River board, was withdrawn at the request of the board concerned as the government has already allocated $100,000 for the construction of the breakwater which was wanted.

A proposal, submitted by the Ladysmith Board of Trade asking the A.B.T.V.I. council to inaugurate a chain of travel bureaus and information centres on the island and to give greater attention to tourist promotion was well received by the meeting. The matter was turned over to a committee for study and action.

A letter from the Ladysmith board objecting to the proposed extension of boundaries at Strathcona Park and Forbidden Plateau was turned over to a group for investigation.

Norman King, president of the A.B.T.V.I. was chairman.

In the evening the 17 council members attended a dinner meeting of the Nanaimo Board of Trade as guests of the Malaspina Hotel. Guest speaker at the evening meeting was John A. Kennedy, superintendent of the E. & N. Railway, who spoke on the history and development of Vancouver Island with regard to the development of the railway.

Report Of Plot To Damage Church Building In Montreal Discounted

MONTREAL (CP) — French Canada awaited today developments of an alleged Communist plot, reported objective of which was to cause "serious damage" to property belonging to religious authorities here.

The plot—said to have been uncovered some months ago—was first made public by Le Canada, Montreal French-language daily, in a newspaper story this morning from its Quebec correspondent.
Although high-ranking police officials remained silent about the plot, said to have been discovered by the Montreal anti-subversive squad of the Quebec Provincial Police, a reliable religious source said he had heard nothing of such an attempt.

OFFICIALS SILENT

Later Rev. Paul Touchette, secretary to Archbishop Joseph Charbonneau of Montreal, said:
"It must be a joke. I have not heard any rumor to that effect
... the story sounds ridiculous to me."

"From a source worthy of credence," Le Canada's story said,
"We learn that the discovery of an alleged plot to destroy an important building in Montreal will soon be announced by Premier Duplessis."

According to information received by Deputy Director Hilaire Beauregard of the Quebec Provincial Police, persons, said to be Communists, are alleged to have joined in a plot to cause serious damages to a building, said to be the property of Montreal religious authorities.

"It is even reported that dynamite would have been used ..."
the story added.

Le Canada went on to say that Premier Duplessis, who is also Quebec's Attorney-General, was studying information received from Director Beauregard and that he probably would disclose

the affair at a press conference, possibly at Quebec.

The paper said that it was also possible the Premier would await next year's session of the Quebec Legislature before making a statement.

Argentina Destroyed $500,000,000 Grain

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — An
"economic blockade" forced Argentina to burn more than 2,000,000,000 pesos ($500,000,000) worth of crops, the government's press office declared Wednesday.

In a statement replying to a
Washington Post editorial criticizing Argentine grain prices, the press office said the newspaper's accusations were "false and intentionally malicious."

Argentina has done much to aid hungry Europe, the statement said, and if it has not done more,
it is because of "economic blockade which unjustly was imposed on it," preventing importation of necessary machinery and transportation material.

The statement did not specify when the grain was burned, but it is known the country used grain for power plant fuel during the war when shipping conditions made it impossible to import coal or export grain. Since the war, no official declarations have mentioned the burning of grain.

Furniture Strike On Mainland Ends

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) —

The last of 600 striking furniture workers returned to their jobs
today, as the Harvey Furniture Co. ended the six-week strike after granting 35 employees 10-cent hourly wage increases.

The company was the last to agree to terms advanced by the International Woodworkers of America, who called the walkout in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria plants.

Harold Pritchett, union president, said that agreement to send the men back to their jobs tomorrow morning was reached with company representative J.
R. Ruddock.

Warns Failure To Pass By-Law Will Raise Sooke School Taxes

Warning that a substantial increase in the mill rate of residents of the Sooke School District would result if the school building by-law fails to pass Saturday by the required three-fifths majority was given today by E. H. Emery, chairman of the district school board.

He said the by-law calls for an expenditure of $60,000 to be amortized over a 12-year period, and will be matched dollar for dollar by the provincial government to provide $120,000 worth of school building. On this basis he said he did not feel it would be necessary to increase the mill rate.

However, if the schools of the district were to be kept operating, the repair and extension work must be done immediately and it would have to go on the taxes for one year if not approved Saturday.

The program calls for the building of three new schools at Belmont, $33,460; Leechtown, $4, 000; and Jordan River, $12,000.

Hunting Death Of Victorian Found To Be Accidental

DUNCAN — A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury Wednesday at an inquest here into the circumstances surrounding the death of William Frank Islip, 2748 Cook Street, Victoria, who was killed in a hunting accident in the Stoltz Logging Company operations near Cowichan Lake
Oct. 19.

He was on a deer hunting trip with Robert N. Carlow, a cousin, when the rifle in the latter's hands inadvertently discharged.
The bullet entered Islip's head just above the left ear and passed out on the right side of the head to shatter the skull, Dr. George Moore told the jury as a result of an autopsy, conducted by himself.

Carlow testified they were traveling down a slight incline in a timbered section of the area, Islip between 40 and 50 yards ahead of him. They had raised a buck deer a short time before.
He had then released the safety catch on his .303 calibre rifle and had forgotten to set it again.

Carlow said he was carrying the gun at the hip when it discharged and struck Islip in the head. He determined immediately that Islip was dead and made his way to Cowichan Lake and reported the tragedy to B.C.
Police.

Carlow said, in reply, to a question visibility was good. He could see his cousin from the waist up.

Constable J. Jones, Youbou, who attended the scene of the tragedy with Carlow and took photographs, said he asked Carlow to stand in the exact spot where the gun fired. The constable said as a result of this it was impossible to see Islip from that point.

The body was not found until the second day after the shooting, located by Donald Clarke, Duncan, a logger from the Summit Lumber Company.

Secret U.B.C. Atom Finds Disclosed By Premier Hart

VANCOUVER (CP) — Secret
atomic discoveries by the University of British Columbia's physics staff were disclosed Wednesday by Premier John Hart at ceremonies opening a new $800,000 physics building.

He did not describe the discoveries, but said they were "a very valuable contribution to the development of the release of atomic energy."

"Great secrecy has surrounded the work of the physics department," he added. "However, I am now able to state that a very valuable contribution to the development of the release of atomic energy was made."

Premier Hart said that the university's role in nuclear physics had been recognized by the Atomic Energy Commission, who voted $65,000 toward further atomic research on the Point Grey campus.

Recognition of U.B.C.'s nuclear discoveries has also been made by the National Research Council, the Defence Research Board, the B.C. Research Council, and the National Cancer Institute.

"Mankind can benefit greatly from such studies as will be continued in this building."

The Premier's address followed the university's fall convocation ceremony, at which Mr. Hart and four famous scientists received honorary doctorate degrees.

Honorary Doctor of Laws degree was conferred on Premier Hart and Honorary Doctorate of Science on Dr. E. O. Lawrence, University of California physicist and inventor of the cyclotron.
Dr. L. A. Dubridge, president of California Institute of Technology; Dr. C. L. Mackenzie, president of National Research Council; Ottawa, and Dr. O. M. So-landt, director of Defence Research, Ottawa.

Degrees in arts, applied science and agriculture were received by 130 graduating students of the university.

The part that students have played in the development of U.B.C. was noted in the address of B. K. Sandwell, editor of Saturday Night, Toronto.

"I know full well," said Dr.
Sandwell, "that there is no university in this Dominion in which the student body as a whole has shared so largely and sacrificed so generously in the struggle to make the educational process sound and effective and the human products of that process worthy of the great fellowship of the learned, to which the university's degree admits them."

The campus gathering also commemorated the 25th anniversary of the 1922 "Point Grey Trek," when U.B.C.'s student body marched from their "Fairview shacks" to the present campus, and erected a stone cabin as a symbol of their determination to see construction start.

Highlight of the campus ceremonies was Premier Hart's opening of the physics building, which covers 2½ acres and provides space for 3,600 students. Eighteen laboratories, 13 research rooms

Canadian Collieries Propose Wage Cuts

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — A proposal to reduce wage rates in three groups will be presented by Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. in forthcoming wage negotiations with the United Mine Workers of America, District 18.

The wage proposal would maintain present levels for skilled workers, but reduce semi-skilled, unskilled and Chinese classifications by six to 11 per cent, an average overall of approximately four per cent.

Such a reduction, a company statement said, would "protect the livelihood of the workers and save them from 'pricing themselves' out of the market."

H. R. Plommer, general manager of the company, told the union in submitting a skeleton contract that the market position of Vancouver Island coal is imperilled. Prices were now too heavy.

FRANK SPEECH

REGARDLESS OF THE TONE OF THE resolution passed by the provincial Progressive Conservative Association at its meeting in Vancouver last Saturday, and notwithstanding the statement issued by Hon. Herbert Anscomb, it is gratifying to note that when he addressed the Saanich Liberal Association on Tuesday evening, Attorney-General Wismer was careful to explain his attitude toward the principle of Coalition government in this province. It is not our intention to belabor the point. This is not the time, on the other hand, to mince matters. Thus we suggest to our readers that the first law officer of the Crown was candid when he said:

"As far as I am concerned, I feel that the convention (the Liberal meeting scheduled to take place early in December in Vancouver) should select the best man or woman available to fill the position of leader of the Liberal Party. It should put aside friendships and personalities and vote for the man or woman it feels can carry on the principles of Liberalism. This is going to be a very important appointment, fraught with great consequences."

The majority of the people of British Columbia are insistent that nothing be done or said calculated to cause the collapse of the Coalition government. It may be that not all of our people will approve the eventual choice of the next Premier. But it will be obvious to all who are seriously concerned with the political and economic stability of this province that the spirit of tolerance and give-and-take must prevail when the problem of selecting a successor to Mr. Hart is tackled and solved. Nothing will be gained by name-calling. Less will be gained by sparring for political position. As we have said before in these columns, it may be necessary for the leaders of both the old-line parties to jettison their own concept of what they think should occur—what they, in the light of their own ambition, think would be best for the province—to retire gracefully from the field and thus facilitate the choice of some public figure without any particular axe to grind.

The present leaders of both political parties are well aware of the difficulties to be faced and overcome. But if all their respective followers are willing to forget their own petty predilections and confine themselves to the delicate and difficult task of finding the right man to lead the government through a strenuous time, they will not only have the satisfaction of knowing that they have done a good job; they will also win the approbation and thanks of the people whose servants they are.

CONTRIBUTION FROM B.C.

THE RESEARCH WORK IN NUCLEAR fission, which has brought recognition to the Department of Physics at the University of British Columbia is, by its very nature, secret. To what degree it has influenced development of this tremendous power potential, either for constructive or destructive purposes, cannot be made public at this time. Yet it will be a matter of some satisfaction to the people of this province to hear Premier Hart's statement that "a very valuable contribution" has been made by the university to the international studies on this subject—a contribution, moreover, which has inspired the Atomic Energy Commission to vote $65,000 toward further work by the U.B.C. in that field.

The abilities of British Columbia students, of course, have never been challenged. The important posts they have gained in institutions of higher learning, as well as in commercial and industrial fields, is ample evidence of their merit. That their attention to the subject of nuclear fission has been productive of good results is not surprising. It is just another manifestation of the institution's ability to keep abreast of the times and to give some measure of leadership in realms beyond those of provincial limits. When the atom has been finally harnessed to machinery from which the world will benefit, it will be a source of some gratification to know that our university has played a part in that accomplishment.

VENI, VIDI, VICI

THE WAR DIARY WHICH THE LATE Gen. George S. ("Blood and Guts") Patton, Jr., wrote for the information of his family and personal friends has reached the public in excerpt form. As published in abridgment in The Saturday Evening Post, the descriptions and observations of the forceful and sensationally successful commander of the United States Third Army make graphic reading. Like all accounts of war from the time of Caesar, it has the benefits and disadvantages of a compilation made by commanders dealing with their own exploits. It presents the views and arguments of the man who made his own decisions and whose justification of them is not challenged by a disinterested chronicler. In consequence, the author and central figure escapes the criticism which a detached observer might have applied to certain phases of the Patton campaign.

Like Caesar, the dynamic American soldier could say: "I came, I saw, I conquered."

The document has its own controversial features. They are embodied in Patton's hostility toward Viscount Montgomery and the influence the latter allegedly exercised over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Patton, for instance, contends that had he been given the support he required, had essential gasoline not been diverted from his forces to those of Montgomery, he could have completed his August, 1944, sweep by crossing the Rhine in 10 days. To which he adds:

"I feel that had I been permitted to go all out, the war would have ended sooner and more lives would have been saved."

The tactician will be in a better position to judge the soundness of that claim than the layman. At all events, the particular offensive of which Gen. Patton spoke was not launched at that time and its probable outcome must remain conjectural. It will appear to many readers, however, that these belated accusations of animosities between commanders serve no useful purpose. That they were restricted to the degree they were is tribute enough to the over-all commander, Gen. Eisenhower. And if readers of the article gain the impression that Gen. Patton was inclined to ignore the importance of others in the field, his contribution to victory should not be minimized.

On the other hand, spectacular as was his course from Normandy eastward, he was not the only successful figure in the war; victory was the product of joint effort. In his criticism of Montgomery, Patton pays no compliment to the architect of that united effort, Gen. Eisenhower, under whom the two field commanders served. Despite that inference, the lustre of the supreme commander remains undimmed. And we submit history will accord Gen. Patton his imposing niche without regard to personal opinions he set down for family and friends.

FORTUNE, GOOD AND BAD

THE EXPERIENCE OF THOSE MEN and women who have won sudden wealth in sweepstakes has not been uniformly happy, according to surveys which have been made from time to time by inquiring newsmen. We do not refer to the unfortunate ones who quit their jobs and in a glorious achievement of long-suppressed desire, tell the boss exactly what they think of him—only to find next day that some mistake has been made and they do not hold the winning ticket after all. We have in mind the genuine winners, signed, sealed and delivered, who frequently find themselves catapulted from the obscurity of the average wage-earner into the limelight of riches.

All too often, it appears, this upheaval proves too strenuous for the recipient. His way of life has been shattered, the fortune seems larger than it really is, heavy commitments are assumed, a high scale of living is entered upon, and sooner than later the beneficiary becomes a victim. Of course it cannot be denied that he has had his fling, and presumably built up exciting memories to lighten the balance of his life. But he has missed the old age of ease and comfort that his sudden riches should have provided. He has left his old friends. His new friends have left him. Happy is the man who can keep his equilibrium in such a tempestuous time, and so arrange his good fortune as to enjoy it for the rest of his days.

CLIMBING THE CURTAIN

CONSCIOUSLY OR UNCONSCIOUSLY, the leader of the Soviet-dominated government of Poland has given an enlightening glimpse of present day life in that satellite nation behind the iron curtain. In explaining the failure of border guards to apprehend the opposition leader, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who fled to escape imprisonment or death, the Premier revealed that the guards had been alert enough to prevent 35,000 persons from leaving the country illegally. This, although it might have been expected, was not commonly known. The word from government sources had been that all was unity and optimism in postwar Poland, but the news that 35,000 residents have been forcibly restrained from leaving puts a new light on the situation.

There are no accurate figures to reflect the number of persons who would like to escape from other parts of the territory under hammer and sickle domination. Thousands now in displaced persons camps in western Europe have refused to return to their old home areas, which were taken over by the Russians. There must be many more thousands now in those districts who would like to leave. And as for the slave laborers in Soviet Russia itself—and estimates of their number have run in the neighborhood of 10,000,000—such a desire may be taken for granted.

Such is the lot of the "little man" under the totalitarian system. He has but three choices. He may work with obedience and docility under his leaders. He may demur—and suffer imprisonment or enslavement. He may die—either by his own hand or that of his overseers. No voice can be raised to right a wrong; no committee may be formed to work for an improvement; no popular movement may be inaugurated which does not stem directly from the all-powerful government. From the freedom and comfort of our own country, our sympathies may well go out to the 35,000 of whom we read, and to the further millions whose mute protest has not achieved even this incidental and anonymous publicity.

* If his wife is never jealous, it is a compliment to his loyalty or a harsh comment on his appearance.

An Age Of Ham

"A HAM," said Herbie, who looked back on too many years as a publicity man in Hollywood, "is an actor or actress who is always acting. They act on and off the set. In private life they can't be natural. Everything is for effect. An invisible camera is always grinding for them. It gets you down. But," and the round homely face creased in the grin that showed his genius for friendship, "they are not all hams. Some of them are good guys. And after a job like this, I can always hide out at my sister's ranch and write detective stories for a market that provides me with enough to eat."

HERBIE DOES NOT ATTACK the industry. He merely comments on the artificial sunburn that exposure to klieg lights has imposed on some who work beneath them. That the burn has gone deep—is accepted as a genuine, healthy tan in some cases—is unfortunate.

But the ham is not the product of a Hollywood monopoly only. The ham emerges wherever the genuine is subjected to the veneer of effect. It shows in the personality boy who turns on the "charm" to create a good impression. It appears in the glamour girl who subverts her natural attractiveness to a phony cloak for effect, a stylized pose or reaction—be it blasé or ingenious.

Ham pops up in the modern novel—the shallow, satirical, chromium-plated thing that puts a transient polish on a shoddy article. And one of its tragedies is that real ability and effort go into the super technique of production to furnish a commodity as spectacular as a neon sign.

HERE IS another Dead Sea fruit—something of inviting exterior, tasteless and without body. Here are the stories of personalities without humanity, the dried bones, hair and nails of things that were cast in man's mold but which lost not only their small touch of the divine, but even the healthy vitality of the animal world in a race over arid ground in quest of "a million bucks" or its counterpart. Here is the account of the shabby, the characterless, the snide, sucking the juices of decency, honesty and affection from the normal folk with whom they come into contact, leaving the once human individual nothing but a husk.

MANY SUCH NOVELS have been carved from the rotten wood that is a canker of modern society. And though the stories are told with consummate skill, though the characters are exposed with surgical deftness, there is about them an air of decay—a defeatist aura which leaves the reader unsatisfied. He has bought a glittering box that contains only dust.

AND BECAUSE THE HAM has become such a part of our world, because the affected has, by constant re-appearance, taken on the character of a reality, the reader accepts his box of emptiness and seeks satisfaction in the artistry which created its attractive exterior. He has been stung. But like the yokel at the carnival side-show who buys the mysterious envelope "for men only" and opens it to find it contains a collar button, he is unwilling to admit the hoax. He must pretend if he has some contents. He, too, must be a ham, acting out his share of the phony drama. He is no "sucker"—or at least he will not admit it.

IF THE READER can be sufficiently "humanized" he will look about him and find the types that "hammed" their way through the book he has read. Losing genuine perspective himself, he will distort his own vision to see in others the affectations he seeks. He will view humanity, not directly, but in the twisted image of the convex or concave mirror.

Comes a day when he realizes he has been hooked by the hucksters, that he has been twisting himself into the cocoon of their spinning, and he starts to unwind. Perhaps he recalls the superlative and clinical job Mollere did on an offending statesman. Perhaps the masterful strokes of Voltaire's pen will help him to sweep aside the mists made by society and let him see clearly. Or in the merry fun of Gilbert and Sullivan he may find the cleansing agent he requires to restore his perspective. From any of a hundred works of an earlier day he can acquire a purging element to rid him of the mild or serious poisons which infect his mental processes.

BUT IF HE is dependent on many of the more recent satirists, he is apt to find in the remedy a bitterness, an element of ham, that is little better than the objects of their ridicule. Behind the cleverly written lines he will detect on the author's part the same old quest for a "million bucks," a quest that leads over the deformities of the times with malice and calculation, devoid of the happy merriment the masters knew. Even with the faulty weapons they supply, the honest man may finally learn to recognize the trappings of artificiality, to shed those that cling to him, and to enjoy the healthy humor of the comedy that is himself.—A.H.S.

There can be no greater service to mankind, and no nobler mission, than devotion to world peace. The course has been charted.—President Truman.

Labor Stages A House-Cleaning

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

FOR AN HOUR John L. Lewis had harangued the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco with one of his typically pompous, theatrical performances. He denounced and sneered at his fellow A.F.L. executives. But the chief target of his wrath was the Taft-Hartley law, to which he again attributed all the vicious, treacherous purposes that have never shown up in practice.

When he had finished the delegates arose and, in a moment, succeeded in doing what the Taft-Hartley law was intended to do. They deflated the soaring ambitions of a power-hungry, egocentric labor leader whose selfishness and irresponsibility had so greatly abused the rights won by organized labor.

NO VICE-PRESIDENTS Specifically, the convention abolished the offices of 13 national vice-presidents, one of which was held by Mr. Lewis. They did this because the United Mine Workers' president had refused to sign the non-Communist affidavit required by the Taft-Hartley law. They also removed him from another office—in advance. For Mr. Lewis had warned them that if they abolished the vice-presidencies, he would not accept a place on the substitute executive council.

The removal of the vice-presidents left only two national officers, a president and a secretary-treasurer. Both these executives are willing to sign the non-Communist affidavit. In doing so, they will give representation before the N.L.R.B. to nearly 300,000 A.F.L. members who have no national officers of their own.

FED UP

That was the immediate reason for the A.F.L. convention's action. But it may be surmised that the delegates were fed up with the familiar Lewis tactics. It could be that they were tired of his attitude of "if I can't be leader, I won't play."

They had seen him walk out of the A.F.L. when he was thwarted. They had seen him walk out of the C.I.O., which he helped found, when the membership refused to do his bidding. This time, if he wanted to take another walk from the A.F.L., it was evident that the convention was perfectly willing to open the door for him.

It could also be that the delegates were tired of his posturings and the ham and corn which are the eye-smiling placards of the Lewis conceit. Maybe, too, they were frightened at the possibility of John L.'s becoming A.F.L. president.

Probably nothing but infirmity or death will remove the well-paid, well-fed Mr. Lewis from his position of eminence in the U.M.W. From that position he made himself such a threat to the operation of the nation's economy that a law was passed in an effort to curb his power.

OTHERS WILL NOTE

But the A.F.L. delegates have succeeded in removing, once and for all, Mr. Lewis' ambition to be a dominant labor figure as well as an economic threat. At 67, his career outside the U.M.W. appears to be finished. The blow that finished it was an intelligent, democratic example of labor's cleaning its own house. If there had been more such housecleanings in the past few years, it is unlikely that a Taft-Hartley law would be on the statute books today.

The lesson of John L. Lewis' fate will hardly be lost upon other heads of unions. Here was an able, intelligent man who for years fought labor's battles with skill and courage. But his growing self-importance let him forget that his power was not all of his own creation. So they turned him out.

The Moving Finger Writes . . .

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION

In a recent issue of your paper the Rev. T. L. Leadbeater had a letter under the heading "Temperance Education" in which he stated that modern education has failed to fulfill its ultimate and true aim. The writer further pointed out that due to moral standards having deteriorated, social evils were growing, and he stressed the need of adding to a purely scientific viewpoint the teaching of religion, of truth and goodness.

Since then a news item has appeared in which we are told a prehistoric ape fossil has been found in South Africa which is so human in its teeth and chin formation as to be accounted the "missing link" between the lower primates and man. And on the same day one of your contemporaries published an editorial, winding up by saying: "And so another link has been fashioned in the missing chain from ape to man." Thus wholly accepting and publishing the truth of man's evolution from lower life forms.

That, then, disposes of the biblical theory of man's creation in the same six-day period as the creation of all other matter and life in less than 7,000 years ago. We are told that this latest find is at least 500,000 years old. This clearly shows the Bible story on which all religious teaching is based is unsound and positively untrue.

Will you, then, be pleased to allow Mr. Leadbeater space in which to explain how, in his opinion, religion should be taught to students who now know there is no truth in it?

OTHER LOST TIME

Mr. Curtis recently uttered a ridiculous statement. Mr. Skillings has supported this statement. According to them the one hour concert for High School students by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra "will take up too much of the students' time"—"So very few are interested in this type of music." It is hard to believe a statement of this kind can come from a school trustee. Last Friday was a regular school day yet the children of Victoria were away from school. They missed five precious hours—hours so precious that one out of the thousand or more of the school year is too much for a genuine full-fledged symphony concert.

Mrs. Beckwith, Mrs. English and Mr. Gough are on the right track and have the support of the Victoria Symphony Society with its many members. Take heed, Mr. Curtis and Mr. Skillings, that you are not on the right track.

W. K. HARDY.

POULTRY PROBLEMS

Having come to B.C. from Saskatchewan for my health, and hoping to depend on poultry farming for my future income, I am amazed at the conditions prevailing here in the industry. Perhaps those most vitally concerned will supply the answers to the following questions:

Why is the quoted price of eggs to the farmer in B.C. the lowest across Canada, and the cost of eggs to the consumer the highest?

Why is B.C. excluded from the 40 per cent animal protein in the feeds, and why cannot we purchase supplementary proteins such as meat and bone meal as we can on the prairies? I have 200 White Leghorn pullets five and half months old that should be laying 30 or 40 eggs, instead they are just marking time devouring the measly 18 per cent protein mash and starving for the higher animal protein ration. It is my opinion that B.C. is losing thousands of eggs for lack of animal proteins. I say this in spite of what the average production may be, and to conclude, why are the poultry farmers so apathetic about such a situation?

PENSIONERS' FLIGHT

We hear much these days of strikes and rising prices of almost everything one wishes to buy. Nearly every trade and calling in Canada has witnessed either strikes for higher wages or has had salaries and wages increased periodically since the cost of living began to rise. Will the trades unions call their men out on strike for one class of people in this country who have never received one cent of cost-of-living bonus or increase of any kind, namely—those with fixed incomes, amongst whom are those who were prepared to die for their country and democracy, but instead, were returned to civil life disabled and unable to engage in remunerative employment and who, consequently, are dependent upon the pension they receive.

Will the powers that be please give a thought to these people, and will the trades unions of Canada champion the cause of the disabled who are actually going short of the vital necessities today? I wonder!

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

The mood of those who are concerned with the welfare of the United Nations is one of increasing fear that our peace organization, which was to unite mankind into one world of friendship, already is an irrevocably tragic failure as the result of the fierce conflict between the Communists and the democracies.

One strives eagerly but vainly to recall some greater accomplishment by the U.N. than that of last Monday when the political committee, after a long and bitter battle, finally achieved unanimity. It adopted a resolution condemning all forms of propaganda likely to provoke or encourage any threat to peace.

HOPE AND PRAYER

So the fruit of weary months of fighting is a resolution condemning war. And having passed this they have returned to the wrangling. Small wonder that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt a couple of days ago expressed a hope and a prayer in the U.N. for a "gradual increase of good will here rather than this continued back-and-forth of our telling each other what dogs we are."

The way it looks from this column's observation post, the U.N. is being kept going largely because of stark fear among member powers of what would happen if the organization collapsed. The results of a breakdown are too terrible to contemplate.

Thus we find in U.N. circles the feeling that the organization must be maintained at all hazards. There are those who are hoping—or perhaps it would be more accurate to say wishfully thinking—that perhaps the anxiously-awaited meeting of the big four foreign ministers in London next month may develop something to alleviate the strained situation.

UNEASY POSITION

One thing which is making both sides do some deep thinking is the position of those unhappy lands which sit in the no-man's-land between the main combatants. The Scandinavian states, for example, are afraid to cast their lot with either side. Even France is uneasy on this score, as it watches Russia's effort to split Europe away from America.

No, this isn't a good time to allow the U.N. to collapse. As remarked to the writer by an official attached to one of the delegations:

"We are wallowing in the bottom of a wave, and we are shipping water, but we aren't ready to admit that we are shipwrecked."

'AGEN IT'

Ottawa Citizen
Like the Irish with their government, the women are "agin it." They will not have those long skirts. Such a sartorial revolt raises wild surmise. Can it be that at long last, the iron dictatorship of Paris that regulates the female form divine is about to be broken? Is it that the haute couture of New York is ready to dissolve, leaving not a rag behind?

POINT OF VIEW

Letter to The Times of London
I have a portrait of an ancestor by an eminent 18th century artist. On cleaning it was found that one eye had at some time been damaged and clumsily repaired, giving the subject a decided squint. Mr. T. C. Dugdale says that restoration should never be necessary: would he leave my ancestor squinting, or one-eyed?

WONDERING WHY

London (Ont.) Free Press
When the record of the government in building the Commonwealth Air Training Plan facilities is compared with that in handling housing one wonders why things can't be done in peacetime as expeditiously as in time of war.

CASE FOR ETIQUETTE

Health and Welfare News
Declaring that etiquette is a part of mental health practice, and rounds out the picture of a healthy mind in a healthy body, the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, says a good word for good manners. "Manners, in addition to making the man, makes the healthy and happy man," says a departmental bulletin. This statement is based on the assertion that the mannerly person, being socially more acceptable, is correspondingly happier, and, hence, healthier.

Symphony Enthralls School Students

Keen interest was shown by the students of Victoria High School as Melvin Knudsen with his Victoria Symphony Orchestra presented what is hoped to be the first of a series of concerts of classical music for Victoria school students.

The concert was an hour long and was financed by the American Federation of Musicians. Mr. Knudsen described the musical selections before playing them, and each instrument of the orchestra demonstrated its voice.

The program consisted of "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai; the Shostakovich Polka; "Pizzicato Polka" by Strauss; "Hall of the Mountain King" from the Peer Gynt Suite by Greig; and the "Thunder and Lightning Polka" by Strauss. John Gough, inspector of schools, introduced Mr. Knudsen to the students; and H. L. Smith, principal, expressed the thanks of the students for the concert.

Film Council News

Monthly meeting of the Greater Victoria Film Council will be held Nov. 6, in the National Film Board screening room, at 1255 Langley Street.

The Victoria Public Library has at the present time two films dealing with libraries and their work. "Library on Wheels" tells the story of how books are brought to families scattered over a wide area of southwestern British Columbia. Stressing the importance of books not only to those in the Fraser Valley who have successfully achieved the traveling library, but to people all over Canada, the film points out that co-operative action in a large district is the only answer to the ever-growing need for books.

"Not by Books Alone" is a 20-minute color film showing the various services provided through the modern and well-equipped Rochester Public Library in Rochester, New York.

The popular skiing film "Ski in the Valley of the Saints" will be available again at the Victoria Public Library in November. This beautiful color film combines scenic panorama and sports in the Laurentians, where holiday-makers from all over the continent gather for winter sports.

The DOCTOR Says:

SEVERE COLIC MAY MEAN GALL STONES

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Removal of the gall bladder is necessary, in patients with gall stones, to completely eradicate the disease. The risk from the operation is slight, if it is performed before complications develop.

Gall stones may not cause any symptoms, as they are often discovered in the course of a general examination. In other instances, patients have severe attacks of colic, which can be traced to the gall bladder and stones.

Gall bladder colic begins suddenly, in the pit of the stomach or under the ribs on the right side, with a knife-like pain which quickly goes through to the back and shoulder, becoming so severe that morphine injections are required for its relief.

The pain may end in a few minutes as suddenly as it began, or it may last for hours. The patient usually complains of soreness in the gall bladder zone for several days after a spell. At the onset nausea and vomiting are common. Usually there is not any fever during the attack, and when it is over the patient apparently is as well as ever.

Mild attacks of gall bladder disease vary from a feeling of fullness to a dull aching soreness under the rib margin. Strangely, a large number of stones and a chronically inflamed gall bladder may produce only mild symptoms, while a few stones and a slightly infected gall bladder may cause severe attacks.

DIGESTIVE SYMPTOMS
Digestive disturbances are common in patients with chronic gall bladder disease. A feeling of fullness after eating, gas on the stomach and belching are usual complaints. Even though relief from pain follows the operation, the digestive symptoms may continue.

It is not necessary to remove gall stones or an infected gall bladder in every patient. The physician must make the decision on the basis of the patient's reaction to the difficulty, and the possibility of damage to surrounding organs.

Question: What is the best way to stop smoking?

Answer: You must stop abruptly, since tapering off is ineffective. If you cut off tobacco entirely, it may bother you for a time, but the feeling will wear off, as the tobacco habit is not a true addiction.

Mormons Leaving For South America

Eight young missionaries, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, otherwise known as Mormons, are visiting Victoria today. Four are destined for Uruguay where they plan to open a mission. The others will remain in Victoria to work with others already here.

Happy and confident, the South American-bound missionaries who hail from the United States, said they had volunteered to open a mission in Uruguay following an appeal from their bishop for missionaries. They will be joined by eight others in Vancouver and will work two or three years in that country at their own expense or at the expense of their parents.

All ranging between the age of 21 to 30 years, the young men said they were confident of being able to look after themselves in South America as the majority of them could speak Spanish. Some were also trained in medicine and law.

Arvil Harris, spokesman for the group, said they had given up their work and studies in order to preach the gospel. "This is the first time we are opening a mission in Uruguay," he said. "The only remaining country which has refused admission to our missionaries is Russia."

Mr. Harris said they expected to be joined by others in two or three months time. "Our church has now 4,500 missionaries preaching the gospel," he said.

Leaving their country, homes and parents, for a strange land which they had never seen, held no fears for these young men, who were all enthusiastic about their mission. They all served in the armed services during the war and had a taste of what it felt like to be away from home.

One of the missionaries remaining in Victoria, Eugene McAfee, said there were 60 to 70 Mormons in Victoria and their numbers were increasing rapidly. Henry R. Price was president of the branch here, he said.

Cross-Canada Trains To Carry Food Gifts On Way To Britain

VANCOUVER (CP)—The cheery whooo-ooo-ooo of a train whistle may soon be echoing across Canada from Victoria to Halifax as the symbol of the Dominion's determination to aid the tightly-rationed people of Britain with food parcels.

At least that is the hope of an enthusiastic group of Vancouver residents who have launched an all-out campaign to organize a Canadian "friendship" train to carry much-needed food to the British Isles.

The idea, stemming from a similar plan to be undertaken in the United States, is to have the train start from Victoria or Vancouver with one or more food-laden freight cars. Then it would pick up others all the way to the Atlantic seaboard.

OVER BOTH LINES

The scheme has met such enthusiastic support in Vancouver that its backers now feel confident that not one, but two trains, will soon start rolling from the Pacific towards the east—one traveling over the Canadian Pacific Railway line, the other over the more northerly Canadian National line.

Among those who have offered their whole-hearted support are Acting Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver, Thomas Braidwood, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, church leaders of all denominations and various men's and women's clubs and organizations.

"It is a very fine idea, for those people certainly need food," was the comment of Mrs. Olga J. Knight, president of the Women's Canadian Club here, as she urged full support of the scheme. Her organization is already sending 50 parcels monthly to individuals in Europe.

The United States train will leave Los Angeles Nov. 5 with an engine, caboose and a box car. The train will be carried free by U.S. railroad companies and at each stop across the country another box car will be added.

Acting Mayor Jones of Vancouver said he felt sure this port would provide at least two box cars of food to start a train off over each of the two main railway lines spanning Canada.

Mayor William Mott of New Westminster, president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, is confident there will be well-loaded freight trains chugging over both lines before the trains leave B.C. and enter Alberta.

Contents of the box cars? Well, B.C. hopes to have food parcels of all descriptions—large and small. Supporters say there will be apples, meat, poultry, grain and numerous canned goods rolling eastward toward Britain within a few weeks.

LONDON—At least 20 families in Britain will be warm this winter. They have been chosen to act as guinea pigs in a government experiment to find ideal heating equipment. They will live in specially insulated houses in which 92 heating appliances will be tested.

Another Stage Success From U.S. Opens In London

By MICHAEL O'MARA
 LONDON (CP)—London's west end appears to be losing the battle for dollars with New York's Broadway.

The latest invader to hit the British boards with a resounding crack is "Anna Lucasta," an all-negro drama about a Pennsylvania prostitute, which opened Wednesday night amid loud cheers from the audience and the critics.

It is the sixth major U.S. importation currently playing London stages—and judging by the reception given its premiere, it is a sound bet to last at least the whole season.

London theatre-goers are fighting their way into American hits playing in the west, including "Oldahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Deep Are the Roots," "Born Yesterday," and the perennial "Life With Father."

But it's a dismal outlook for the British attempts to pick up a little hard currency through footlight export-import methods with two British invaders of Broadway—Cleely Courtneidge's "Under the Counter" and the melodrama "Duet for Two Hands"—both folding after less than a month on the Great White Way.

Francis L. Sullivan, star of "Duet," was quoted by a London paper as saying the vehicle failed "because Americans don't like psychological melodrama." That's issue-dodging. Americans liked the English play "Night Must Fall," which was a prewar smash hit and just about as psychological as a melodrama could well be.

Closer to the mark was Miss Courtneidge's comment on the failure of "Counter."

"New York audiences don't know me—why should they come to see me if the notices are bad?" she said.

The British theatre is not beaten yet—more exports are planned with which to storm Broadway. But it will have to pull up its prestige a long way before it can turn the strong-running tide which is enabling the United States' shows to snatch the best box-office business right in the heart of the west end.

His committee is responsible for collections in the downtown business area, handling one of the major phases of the campaign. Mr. Leeming is in charge of the industrial section, aided by Mr. Ingledeu as vice-chairman and George Wilkinson. They look after collections in all large industrial firms in the area, organizing donations of employees within the firms. Mr. Leeming stressed that he had a group of 27 canvassers and hoped the public realized that each of them, in addition to giving his own donation to the Community Chest fund, was also donating his time to the work of canvassing.

Insufficient Stamps Makes Problem Here

An appeal to Victorians to make sure they have sufficient postage on their overseas air-mail letters was made today by John B. Sinclair, city postmaster, who said that insufficient postage on these letters was one of the greater problems being faced by the post office.

When such a letter is received at the Victoria post office for disposal and there is indication of the sender's identity, the post office attempts to notify him there is insufficient prepayment.

In many cases, however, Mr.

Sinclair said, the item does not bear a return address and there is no alternative but to send the letter forward, taxed at double the deficiency.

The postmaster asks the public to take care to have their air-mail weighed and to put on the return address, thus saving overseas friends the necessity of paying a heavy surcharge on receipt of the letter.

R.A.F. Evacuating Britons From Kashmir; Pathans On Warpath

NEW DELHI (AP) — Fifteen

R.A.F. Dakotas were expected to complete evacuation today of British civilians from Kashmir, where Indian and state troops were reported repelling invading Pathan tribesmen from Pakistan's northwest frontier province. The evacuees, mostly retired civil servants, vacationists and school children, will total between 200 and 250.

A high military source at Indian headquarters said it was unlikely military operations would be completed in Kashmir for some months. The raiders were said to total at least 5,000 men and reinforcements still are streaming across the Pakistan border. The invaders were reported to be well armed with modern weapons.

Dispatches from Kashmir said Baramulla was still in the hands of the raiders and that the present front was 15 to 20 miles from the capital of Srinagar. An outflanking movement by the raiders designed to capture Srinagar was reported foiled.

It was estimated between 1,500 and 2,000 veteran Sikh troops were now aiding the Kashmiri state army of approximately 10,000.

In the Moslem-ruled state of Junagadh in the Kathiawar Peninsula a self-styled "provisional government" composed of Hindus announced it was training 1,000 men as a nucleus army to recapture the remainder of the state from the Nawab, who wishes to accede to Pakistan.

The "provisional government" said its forces had already occupied 23 villages without opposition. It declared the occupation area a "war zone" and banned traffic except under permit.

Blair, president of the Victoria and District P.T.A. Council.

Clive Kelly, principal of the High School, and Hugh Creelman, principal of Lampson Street School, presented their staff to the guests, and Tom Floyd gave a short address.

Entertainment was provided by a novelty sale conducted by John McDonald and Earle Briggs as auctioneers. Musical and dancing solos were given by Mrs. A. Henning, Don Weston and Rae Evenden. Accompanists were Mrs. F. Sparks and Mrs. D. Hogan.

Mrs. Fred Sturrock was in charge of membership and literature stalls. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Arthur Armstrong and her committee.

Mrs. Bracken Talks To Women's Ass'n

Stating there was only one woman member in the House of Commons and only two women senators, Mrs. John Bracken, wife of leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Canada, pointed out at a public reception given Wednesday evening in her honor by the Victoria Women's Conservative Association that there is a great need to have a larger representation of women in governing bodies.

"Women stand to lose the most if democratic governments are not functioning properly," Mrs. Bracken said, "therefore, women should keep informed on questions and problems of the moment, study just what freedom really means today and then be willing to work for that freedom."

Mrs. R. D. Harvey, president of the local association, introduced the speaker and expressed the thanks of the audience. Mrs. C. H. Smith presented Mrs. Bracken with a corsage bouquet of gardenias and rosebuds.

A musical program included solos by Miss Marion Inglis, accompanied by H. Rimmer; dances by Donny Rix's pupils, Ruth Thomas, Vera and Phyllis Wakelyn, Marie Maggiora, Joyce Johnson and June Day, and a Spanish solo dance by Miss Rix. Refreshments were served.

Nursing Schools, Government Financed, Help Solve Crisis

Government financing of nurses' training schools within hospitals, was recommended as one method of helping to solve "the major crisis now facing the nursing profession in Canada," by Gertrude M. Hall, general secretary of the Canadian Nurses' Association, in an interview, yesterday.

In Victoria, to attend the 30th annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association which opened at the Empress this morning, Miss Hall stated that national association has recommended to the federal government that a nation-wide survey be conducted by experts familiar with all factors involved, to solve the present problem of shortage of nurses.

"We have come to a major crisis and must chart our course ahead," Miss Hall said. "All education is state-aided so there is no reason why nursing should not be. Nurses' training should not be the sole responsibility of the hospital."

SURVEY PROPOSED

The nation-wide survey proposed according to Miss Hall, would estimate the nursing needs of the country over a 10-year period; examine the preparation of nurses in training; study the desirability of operating nursing schools on an entirely different basis; analyze the cost to hospitals of operating schools of nursing and also analyze the value to hospitals of the student nurses.

"In Canada's 160 schools of nursing at the beginning of this year, there were 12,880 students enrolled," Miss Hall said. "Provided all these students complete their courses, 4,000 would graduate annually for the next three years."

"Even this relatively large number will not be sufficient to meet the demands of rapidly expanding services especially in the hospital fields," Miss Hall continued. "Many hospitals want to expand. Their walls are bulging. Some are just waiting for materials. Once they are available, hospitals will have more beds which in turn will mean additional nurses required."

Miss Hall that way must be found to induce well-prepared young women to enter schools of nursing, and at the same time, remedy the present situation by lessening the domestic duties of nurses.

"We must try to get more auxiliary workers and thus try to make the training period more attractive," she said.

PUBLIC DEMANDS

"The public are aware of the value of public health and visiting nurse service and they are determined to have more of it," she continued. "Ex-servicemen and women who became so used to regular medical, nursing and dental services in the forces, like the system and want the same carried over into civilian life."

"They not only want it, they demand it," she said, adding, "that is as it should be."

Discussing "the desperate need" for auxiliary workers in hospitals all across Canada, Miss Hall said the Canadian Nurses' Association welcomed the bringing of people from displaced persons camps in Europe.

"Many young women without qualifications to register as nurses would probably be able to assist as auxiliary workers in our institutions, where the need for such workers is so acute," she said. "The C.N.A. have sent a resolution to that effect to the Prime Minister."

According to the resolution, those displaced persons who could qualify to give nursing service as rendered by registered nurses in Canada, would also be welcomed by the C.N.A.

"Demands in the three fields of nursing, private duty, hospital and public health nursing require immediate long-range planning to provide sufficient nurses," Miss Hall said.

"The problem requires the consideration not only of the medical and nursing profession and hospital administration but also that of the community at large."

Junior Citizens Taught How City Grows

A group from Tillicum School visits the central firehall, under the leadership of Miss Betty Johnson of the teaching staff. Miss Johnson is junior citizens' convener for the Tillicum P.T.A.

During October more than 200 children have learned about citizenship by visiting places of civic interest under a junior citizens movement sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

Started last year at Cloverdale School in High Quadra district, junior citizens groups are operating now from six schools in Greater Victoria, and this month have visited the provincial archives, the museum, central fire hall, a big department store, a glass factory and a lumber mill. While it is not new thing for children to be taken out by their teachers in connection with their social studies classes, Victoria is the first city in which such visits have been organized on a regular monthly basis under the joint leadership of parents and teachers, and with a view to teaching especially better citizenship.

Both in class and during the expeditions the children are taught respect for other people's rights, the need for law, what taxes buy for us, how a city grows and lives. Parents other than the leaders frequently accompany the children.

A district convener, appointed by the District Council of Affiliated P.T.A.'s, is responsible for dovetailing visits, arranging transportation and preventing congestion downtown which might arise as other parent-teacher groups in other schools take up the movement.

Parent leaders at present co-operating are Mrs. J. J. Carney, district convener and convener for Cloverdale School; Mrs. J. W. Sulisbury, South Park School; Mrs. Parkin, Oaklands, and Mrs. H. A. Giles, Tolmie.

Teacher leaders co-operating are Miss Mildred Duncan, Cloverdale; Miss Wiles, Craigflower; Miss Betty Johnson, Tillicum, and Miss McKay, Tolmie.

Now Organizing
Air Liaison Group
For Reserve Army

OTTAWA — An air liaison group of the Canadian Army Reserve Force, known as No. 2 ALG, with sections operating at various R.C.A.F. auxiliary stations across the Dominion, is now being organized, the Minister of National Defence announced today.

No. 2 air liaison group is the reserve force counterpart of No. 1 ALG, at present functioning with the Canadian Army Active Force, and serves as a link between the reserve force of the army and the R.C.A.F. auxiliaries. Sections of No. 2 ALG will attend the same training parades as the R.C.A.F. auxiliary squadrons to which they are attached, and will keep the squadrons advised upon military matters. They will also lecture the R.C.A.F. auxiliary on army-air co-operation and air support work.

During the initial stages of organization it is the aim of No. 2 ALG, to enlist as many war-experienced air liaison officers as possible so that they may train newcomers, but courses will be available later for members of the group at the Joint Air School at Rivers, Man., during the summer months. It is anticipated that all sections of the group will undergo the authorized 30-day annual training plus 15 days' specialist training, common to all reserve force units.

Sections of No. 2 air liaison group will be attached to the following R.C.A.F. auxiliary squadrons:

ELM TREES LIVE LONG AND SOME GROW TALL

Cambridge, Mass., used to have a famous tree known as "the Washington Elm." There was a tablet beside the tree, and on it were the words, "under this tree Washington took command of the American army, July 3, 1775."

Twenty-four years ago that tree fell to the ground. It had been a good-sized tree when George Washington stood under it, and it stood for 148 years after the event.

That is only one of a number of cases in which elm trees have been observed over a long period. They reach a ripe old age, sometimes living more than two centuries. The old ones grow very thick trunks.

One record tells of an elm with a trunk eight feet thick. Other elms have been found to have a trunk diameter of from four to five feet.

Elms have been popular trees for many centuries in Europe, and they have been well liked in North America since the days of early settlers. The white elm is a rival of the maple as a favorite shade tree. In some sections it probably would rank above the maple if a vote were taken.

Many streets in cities and villages have elms on both sides, and in some cases the tops of the trees meet over the street. This forms a graceful archway.

Elms are tall trees. Often they reach heights of from 75 to 100 feet, and sometimes they go up 125 feet or a little more. Certain of them have an "umbrella form," and others have a "vase form."

Clusters of pretty flowers grow on elm trees. In the autumn the leaves of the white elm turn to a fine, clear yellow, and add beauty to the season.

Besides the white elm, there are several other kinds. One is the cork elm, another the red elm, and still another the witch elm.

The red elm has clusters of reddish flowers. It also has the name of "slippery elm," because its inner bark is slippery. Some of the American Indians called this tree "oo-hoosh-ah," meaning "it slips." Red elms grow from the St. Lawrence valley southward and southwestward to Florida and Texas.

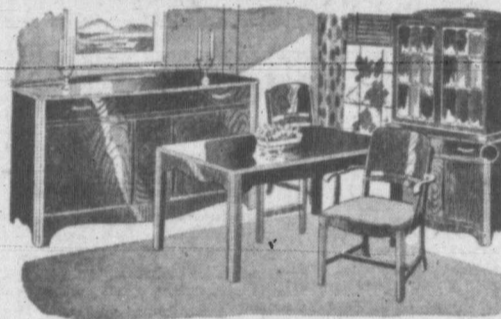

Cork elms are found most often on high river banks. The province of Ontario has many of them, and so does the state of Michigan. Some grow in Quebec, in New England and in various states of the Middle West besides Michigan. These trees have corky bark on their trunks and large branches.

Falcon Hitchhikes Ship Ride

An unexpected passenger arriving in Montreal aboard the Canadian Pacific cargo-passenger liner Beaverburn was Josephine, the merlin falcon shown eyeing Chief Officer W. Poole with a look of uncertainty. When Beaverburn was 100 miles off the Irish coast, en route to Canada, Josephine, buffeted by high winds and almost exhausted, landed on deck. Nervous and in bad shape for a couple of days, she was brought back to normal by tidbits of raw meat, and was persuaded to share the chief officer's cabin for the rest of the voyage. Mr. Poole, who, like many deep sea sailors, is an amateur ornithologist, thinks the falcon was migrating from England to Spain or North Africa and was blown off course by heavy weather.

Labor Government Scrapes Win In House Vote By 24

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Labor government averted defeat by fewer than 30 votes on two occasions in the House of Commons Wednesday—the narrowest margins it has had since the party came to power in August, 1945.

By a count of 184 to 160, the Labor majority approved a holly-argued motion to end debate on a controversial government proposal to abolish the slim basic gasoline ration—now allotted to British motorists. The Conservative opposition greeted the vote with shouts of "Gag" and "Resign, resign."

A few moments later the House defeated, 187 to 160, an opposition motion to annul the government order wiping out the basic gasoline ration.

EARLY MORNING VOTE

The closeness of the votes was due partly to Labor abstentions and to the hour—the ballot came in the early hours of the morning after a night sitting—which reduced the attendance generally. The Labor Party has 394 seats and the Conservatives 190.

These votes followed by only a few hours Conservative Leader Winston Churchill's fourth unsuccessful effort to throw the government out of office by an adverse Parliamentary ballot. The House defeated his attempt Wednesday night, 384 to 201. His previous attempts had failed, 381 to 197 in 1945; 374 to 198 last April; and 251 to 148 last August.

The debate on the gasoline issue, on which an adverse vote might have put the government in a position where it would have been forced to resign, developed a few hours after messengers had carried into the House of Commons a petition bearing more than 1,000,000 signatures protesting against abolition of the gasoline ration.

Hugh Gaitskell, newly-appointed Minister of Fuel and Power, said the decision to abolish the basic ration was taken as "an essential step in the balance of payments, to save foreign currency in general and dollars in particular." He said it would mean a saving of £7,500,000 ($30,000,000) in dollars.

Earlier, the House had wound up two days of debate on Churchill's effort to expel the government by rejecting the opposition leader's resolution stating that Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet lacked the "national leadership, the administrative competence, or the measures necessary to meet" Britain's grinding economic troubles.

Attlee assured the House his government had every intention of carrying out its program of industrial nationalization and loosed a scathing attack on Churchill's demand Tuesday that Britain return to a system of free enterprise along U.S. lines. "I never knew," the Prime Minister said, "a speech that ignored more entirely the facts of the economic situation."

Attempted Theft Charge Dismissed

Magistrate H. C. Hall dismissed a charge of attempted theft laid against Charles Bland on Oct. 8 when accused appeared for judgment Wednesday in city police court.

He was charged with attempted theft against Norman Higgins in the Rex Hotel, Store Street. In dismissing the charge Magistrate Hall said that in view of the considerable amount of noise made in breaking the door panel to the room of Higgins he could not assume the defendant intended to steal anything. He said he must give the accused the benefit of the doubt.

Patrick J. Sinnott appeared for the accused. After hearing of Crown evidence, Mr. Sinnott offered no defence.

Says Canada In Danger Of Losing Export Market

"Unless production costs on manufactured goods are lowered, many manufacturers may well find that they have priced themselves out of the export market," said Clifford A. L. Murchison, K.C., commissioner of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, in appealing to management and labor to co-operate in keeping the cost of commodities down.

Mr. Murchison, who spoke before the quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, pointed out that in order for Canada's economy to continue in a healthy state, 35 per cent of the wealth produced in Canada must be exported.

"To that extent at least we are in the open or world market—in a market where goods are also sold by other countries, where production costs are considerably less than in Canada," he said. "The continuation of that upward spiral in the cost of merchandise can only result in the damping up of goods from the retailer's shelf back to the manufacturer's storehouse."

The speaker blamed the continual rise in the cost of manufactured goods and foodstuffs on the failure of management and labor to come to an agreement with regard to wages. As the price on commodities increased, labor demanded an increase in wages, he said.

Labor and management were having their disputes, he said, but had failed to take into account the rights of the party of the third part, namely the consumer and people with a fixed income.

HERE TO STAY

With regard to labor, Mr. Murchison said that unions had come to stay, it was now necessary for employers to consider the rights of their workers.

"During the war, trade unions made substantial progress on their own behalf, as well as on behalf of the people they represented," he said.

Of the 5,000,000 employed persons in Canada today, he said, 331,697 are members of trade unions. There were 358,967 members of trade unions before the war.

Speaking of unemployment, Mr. Murchison said unemployment conditions in Canada had now reached an all-time low—as low as two per cent of the total population of Canada. But he warned that high employment might not continue for ever because of Canada's dependability on the economic stability of the United States and Europe.

The unemployment fund, he said, now exceeded $397,000,000, and some had suggested that contributions to the fund be suspended for a time.

The speaker said that he was not in accord with those who suggested that contributions to the fund should be suspended because the fund would not be large enough to last through a long period of unemployment.

Walter Miles presided at the meeting. Mayor Percy George thanked the speaker at the conclusion of his address.

13 Big League Clubs Bid For Zoeterman

CHICAGO (AP)—George Zoeterman, 17-year-old left-handed high school pitcher who is the central figure in Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler's action in suspending Leslie M. O'Connor, general manager of Chicago White Sox, says 13 major league clubs were "interested" in him before he signed a Sox contract.

Zoeterman said he signed the controversial contract last Sept. 6 after receiving a $2,000 bonus from Emmet (Red) Ormsby, White Sox scout. He said he talked to representatives from all of the major league clubs except Washington, Cincinnati and New York Giants before signing the Sox contract. Baseball rules forbid signing high school players. The White Sox general manager was fined $500 recently for signing Zoeterman.

O'Connor, in declining to pay the fine, maintained that he did not violate the rule.

SERVED LANDIS
O'Connor, 59, joined the White Sox after a long career as "right arm" and secretary for baseball's original commissioner, Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

For 24 years O'Connor was the man behind the scenes in Landis' office. After Landis' death he was mentioned as "logical successor" to the famed "squire" he had served, but he declined the position, saying "there was only one Landis and for that reason there should never be another commissioner."

However, he did serve with Will Harridge, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, president of the National League, as a three-man regency which governed baseball during the interim between Landis' death and the selection of Chandler.

O'Connor is the second major figure in baseball to be suspended by Chandler. The first was Leo (Lippy) Durocher, manager of Brooklyn Dodgers, who was suspended for the 1947 season. Durocher's suspension was lifted with the close of the 1947 World Series.

Chicago Turns Down Deal For Jim Henry

NEW YORK (CP)—If Chicago Black Hawks want to exchange forward Alex Kaleta and $15,000 for netminder Sugar Jim Henry, New York Rangers will be only too glad to make the swap.

That's the word from manager Frank Boucher of the Rangers, who adds a little sadly that the transaction doesn't seem at all likely right now.

The question arose following published reports Wednesday that president Bill Tobin of the Hawks, seeking a replacement for Emile (Cats) Francis, offered Rangers $15,000 for Henry to replace Francis in goal, with Kaleta going to New York at the end of the National League season.

Boucher told New York hockey writers he telephoned Tobin in Chicago, saying he'd be delighted to close the deal. Tobin replied he had been misquoted and had suggested no such exchange.

Report Rainiers To Operate Great Falls

SEATTLE (AP)—The Times said Wednesday the "arrangement" by the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast Baseball League "to own and run the Great Falls, Mont., club in the class C-Pioneer League is virtually completed, except for naming a general manager and field pilot for the team."

The article said Eddie Taylor, Rainier coach since 1935, appeared to have the inside track for the job of general manager, and Dick Gyselman, veteran third sacker of the Seattle and San Diego teams, looked like top choice for field manager.

K.V.'s, Y.M.C.A. Hook Up In Cage Duel Saturday

Featured by the second meeting of the Y.M.C.A. and K.V.'s hoopers, Victoria and District Basketball Association lists three games on the menu for cage fans at Victoria High School Saturday night. First game between these night A squads was a hectic affair and the return clash promises to be another fan thriller. Other Saturday night tilts bring together Victoria College and Spencer, intermediate B boys in the preliminary at 7, and Navy and Esquimalt, senior B men, an hour later. Feature game is billed for 9.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

PLAN OF THE GROUP of sport-minded individuals in Nova Scotia to tax senior athletic events with a view to raising funds for the promotion of junior competition has a lot of merit. Only criticism is that the leaders of senior sports throughout the Dominion should have worked out such a plan years ago and conditions should never have reached the stage where provincial legislation is required to secure such financial aid for the youngsters.

TOO LONG have the youngsters in sport been ignored. I don't refer to the juniors. It is the juveniles, midgets and bantams who usually are in need of funds to obtain bare necessities to keep their sports campaigns alive. I have seen the small fry experience plenty of hardships right in this town. Quite often the kids themselves or the fellows who give of their time and patience in the coaching jobs have to scout around and literally beg money with which to purchase equipment. And were it not for the big heartedness of our merchants, service clubs and a few private citizens these kids would have a hard time of it.

SUCH A SITUATION is pitiful in any community. And the senior sports leaders should be the first to realize it. If the youngsters are not engaging in sports then the senior clubs are going to be the ones to suffer eventually. From these young fry come the stars of tomorrow. Unless a sport is being enthusiastically entertained by the kids that sport will some time in the near future face a dearth of material. I'll agree that quite often it is a case of lack of thought. But that is no excuse. Leaders in sport should be alive to the fact they must assist the youngsters if their particular branch of athletics is to boast a high calibre of competition in the years to come.

IT WILL BE interesting to watch the progress of the Nova Scotia plan. If it meets with success there is every possibility the scheme will spread to other parts of the Dominion. The idea has merit, inasmuch as it aids the youngsters who need assistance regardless of the opinion of some individuals who make the statement "the kids are far better off today than when I was a boy."

Brooks Still Leads In Winning Mounts

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Jockey Johnny Longdon, Cardston, Alta., booted home three winners Wednesday while Steve Brooks had one. Brooks still remained in the lead for the nation's jockey title with 263 firsts against Longdon's 259.

Longdon, riding at Bay Meadows, has had six wins and two places in 13 mounts in two days. His total to date is 1,079 starts, 259 winners, 207 seconds and 154 thirds.

The veteran Brooks, who won at Churchill Downs with Happy Indian, has a total of 263 winners, 203 seconds and 159 thirds on 1,168 mounts.

On a percentage basis, Longdon has 24 per cent winners. Brooks has 22.5 per cent winners.

Toronto In Smashing Win Over Canadiens

Boston Bruins rode the National Hockey League crest today, a drop in the bucket ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings.

Bruins moved into undisputed possession of first place last night when they hammered New York Rangers into submission 3 to 2. At the same time, Leafs took the measure of Montreal Canadiens 3 to 1, while Wings dropped Chicago Black Hawks 5 to 2.

The night's play left Bruins on top with eight points; Leafs and Wings next with seven; Canadiens in fourth place with six. From there the gap widens to a considerable degree. Rangers have two points while Hawks still have a big goose-egg marked opposite their name in the standings.

Bruins, their only defeat a 5 to 0 loss to Canadiens, showed entirely too much staying power for Rangers. Rangers held an edge in the play in the early part of the game but Bruins, with defenceman Fernie Flamon and wingman Woody Dumart leading the way, assumed charge midway through the contest.

Flamon, a second-year man giving every indication of developing into a top-line rearguard, scored a third-period goal and helped in a score by Dumart in the first period. Ken Smith also produced a tally in the opening period for Bruins while Buddy O'Connor scored for Rangers in the same session.

BIG-LINE STARS
Toronto's big line of Syl Apps, Harry Watson and Bill Ezinicki carried off most of the honors in the Leaf victory over Canadiens. Ezinicki and Watson rapped in goals in the first period while the Habs were short-handed and Apps kept pace with his line-mates with a goal early in the last period.

Montreal's goal went to Maurice (Rocket) Richard in the second period. Rookie Tod Campeau of Canadiens suffered a dislocated shoulder in the contest and was taken to hospital.

Wings made it five losses in five for the Hawks, shooting into a four-goal lead in the opening period. Pep Guddolin, Gerry Couture, Jimmy McFadden and Jim Conacher came through with the first-period goals while Syd Abel tallied Detroit's final goal in the second period.

For Hawks rookie Dick Butler scored in the middle session while the other went to defenceman Johnny Marucci in the first period.

Bristling Bout Forecast Between Raadik And Cerdan

CHICAGO (AP)—A rough and ring-cunning Estonian tomorrow night may prove to be the most dangerous foe Marcel Cerdan, newest fistic toast of France, has faced since his invasion of North America.

The Estonian is Anton Raadik, who will oppose Cerdan, middleweight champion of Europe, in a 10-round battle in Chicago Stadium. The ring exploits of the colorful Frenchman, rated as the best fighter to come out of the Second World War, has aroused so much interest that the bout probably will draw 15,000 spectators with a gate in excess of $50,000.

Cerdan has won his previous three fights on this continent—one in Montreal—by knockouts. A weaving, hooking boxer, who rarely retreats, Cerdan has flashed a devastating machine-gun attack.

Against Raadik, Cerdan faces another European battler who knows only a rugged offensive. Raadik has racked up three successive knockouts in his most recent starts, and has won all but four of his American bouts since arriving from Estonia 18 months ago.

Death of a brother-in-law in Casablanca, with whom his wife and three sons have been living, has upset Cerdan's plans to remain in the United States until the Christmas holidays. Instead, he will take a plane to New York Saturday and make immediate plans to return home by plane. He intends to return with his wife and three boys as early as possible.

Marchildon Will Be Honored By Home Town

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont. (CP)—This Simcoe County town of 4,521 persons is planning a rousing welcome-home for its most illustrious son, Phil Marchildon, probably Canada's outstanding gift to organized baseball.

Just when the party will take place depends on when the Philadelphia Athletics' pitching ace completes his tour with Bob Feller's All-Stars. Original plans were to stage the celebration Nov. 6, but should the hunters head for the bush before Phil returns home, it will be held over until the week of Nov. 23.

Marchildon has brought the town so much international publicity that the affair will be in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce and natives here won't find any argument when they claim that Phil's American League record has done more to boost the stock of Canadian baseball production than any other single factor.

Canadian youth has become baseball minded because of the success of Marchildon and other professional stars such as Goody Rosen, Earl Cook, Lefty Judd, Dick Fowler and Frank Colman.

Finance, Airline Stewardesses Basis Of Hospital Resolutions

How to operate a hospital and not show a deficit is considered the $64 question by many delegates attending the 30th annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association now in session at the Empress Hotel, with the resolutions committee under S. M. Cosier, secretary-manager of the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, consolidating seven resolutions on finance.

The resolutions will go before the convention Friday morning.

One resolution from the lower mainland region recommends that the provincial government be strongly pressed to increase the grant of 70 cents a day per patient to $1.50 a day.

Resolutions from another region want the association to ask the airline companies not to employ registered nurses as air stewardesses, as too many trained nurses were being absorbed in this way.

Okanagan and district region ask that a home for the aged and incurable be established in the interior and that the government be advised to consider taking over the old Vernon Military Hospital for this purpose.

One resolution calls for the Hospitals' Association to approach the B.C. government to introduce a bill to implement the Provincial Health Insurance Act.

Another resolution urges hospitals to take out some form of insurance to protect themselves against any loss they may sustain financially by paying nurses when the latter are off duty owing to illness.

6 Parliamentary Assistants Named By Government

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King today announced the appointment of six new parliamentary assistants.

Appointed were Ralph Maybank (Lib.-Winnipeg South Centre) as parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Health and Welfare.

Walter Harris (Lib.-Grey-Bruce, Ont.), assistant to External Affairs Minister St. Laurent.

P. E. Cote (Lib.-Verdun, Que.), assistant to Labor Minister Mitchell.

Robert McCubbin (Lib.-Middlesex West, Ont.), assistant to Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Gleason Belzile (Lib.-Rimouski, Que.), assistant to Finance Minister Abbott.

R. H. Winters (Lib.-Queens-Lunenburg, N.S.), assistant to Revenue Minister McCann.

The appointments bring the number of parliamentary assistants to 10. Robert Mayhew, Victoria, now is assistant to Finance Minister Abbott and he will continue in that post, sharing some of the duties with Mr. Belzile.

John M. Webster, Vancouver, was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on a charge of being in possession of stolen clothing, the property of Bert Yesowick, Westholme Hotel. He conducted his own defence. Sgt. Thomas Stevenson and Constable Ray Maitland are police witnesses in the case.

C.N.R. Appointments Mark Expansion Of Activities In B.C.

BERNARD A. ALLEN

JOHN F. COOPER

Appointment of Bernard A. Allen, general superintendent of the B.C. district, Canadian National Railways, as manager of the company for B.C., was announced today by W. R. Devenish, vice-president, western region. Mr. Allen will be succeeded as general superintendent in Vancouver by John F. Cooper, formerly superintendent of the Port Arthur division.

In making the announcement, Mr. Devenish pointed out that increasing company activities on the Pacific coast have made it necessary for a change in organization in order to meet the growing demands of railway and steamship service.

"This appointment is made in order to have an official representing the company in a greater measure of authority, so that all business matters, contingent on transportation, rail or water, can be more satisfactorily handled in the business interests of B.C. and the Pacific coast," he said.

"General industrial activity in B.C. has increased to such an extent that Canadian National Railways is setting up a larger organization to handle the situation. In promoting Mr. Allen to manager for B.C., we do so with a full appreciation of the growing importance of the Pacific coast from a transportation point of view."

Only Quarter Of Chest Objective In By Second Week

With the second week of the 1947 Community Chest campaign nearly over, the total received amounts to only a little more than a quarter of the objective, figures released from headquarters at Prince Robert House today show. There is $33,266 collected on the $130,000 objective.

D. G. Decker, executive secretary, today stressed the value of pledges. "If those who are unable to make a full donation now would sign the pledge cards, for even as little as 25 cents a week for the coming year, it would put our campaign over the top," he stated.

He said that many canvassers had found housewives who want to contribute but cannot afford to make a large lump-sum donation. In giving a weekly or monthly pledge, he declared, the individual promises continuing support for the Community Chest ideals and the 19 member agencies.

The residential canvass still leads with $19,627 turned in. Business canvass has collected $12,237, industrial $1,078, and rural $324.

S. Stephen Heads Laundry Company

The board of directors of New Method Laundries Ltd. announce the appointment of S. Stephen as president of the company in succession to W. F. Pinfold who has resigned his position as president and director.

H. R. Stephen continues as vice-president and managing director and S. Swetnam as general manager.

Insurance Proposed As Help In Financing B.C. Hospitals

A new approach must be made to the matter of hospital management and financing, Hon. George S. Pearson, provincial secretary, through his deputy, R. A. Pennington, told nearly 200 delegates to the 30th annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, which opened at the Empress Hotel today.

Absent owing to health reasons, Mr. Pearson invited the association to send any committee to him to discuss problems of the hospitals.

"The department has under consideration the problems hospitals are facing in those two branches of hospital work and Mr. Pearson hopes that with reasonable co-operation, a solution may be found which will make it possible for hospitals in B.C. to operate efficiently and soundly," Mr. Pennington said.

Representatives of 77 government-aided hospitals and 35 private hospitals opened their two-day deliberations on questions of hospital finance, shortages of nurses and related problems, following an address by J. V. Fisher of Victoria, president of the B.C. Hospitals' Association.

Alderman Frank G. Mulliner, representing Mayor Percy E. George, who is in Vancouver today, brought the greetings of the city council and welcomed the delegates to Victoria.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Mr. Fisher called for a comprehensive health insurance or at least hospital insurance, in order to help hospitals hurdle their difficulties. Prefacing remarks on provincial grants, with the statement he was not opposed to larger provincial grants, Mr. Fisher said:

"Greater provincial expenditures are possible, only if appropriate taxation exists. The people as a whole provide the means and the province acts as their agent. It appears to me for more logical to suggest that the Crown become the agent of the public in the fullest measure possible, by instituting a comprehensive health insurance, or at least, hospital insurance."

One Island Firm Among 24 Companies Registered In Week

Two dozen companies, including one Vancouver Island firm, were registered during the week ended Wednesday under the Companies Act at the Parliament Buildings.

The island registration is Home Sales & Services Ltd., with $10,000 capital, registered from Nanaimo.

From Vancouver the following firms were registered: Westwood Mining Co. Ltd., $10,000; Kingsway-Ambulance Services Ltd., $20,000; Camwood Co. Ltd., $10,000; Highway Accommodations Ltd., $10,000; Compact Homes Ltd., $10,000; Shamrock Lunch Ltd., $10,000; Clinton Clothes Ltd., $25,000; Totem Tie Co. Ltd., $10,000; Service Enterprises Ltd., $60,000; Kingsway Refrigeration Co. Ltd., $17,500, and 250 shares, no par value; Walker-Ryan Ltd., $5,000, and 100 shares, no par value; Nairn Bros. Foundry Co. Ltd., $50,000; Sinclair Stores Ltd., $50,000; Northwest Cotton Co. Ltd., $50,000; Greenwood Land & Development Co. Ltd., 50,000 shares, no par value; H. C. Rhodes Bakery Equipment Ltd., $10,000; The Max Co. Ltd., $25,000; James T. Auld & Co. Ltd., $10,000; MacDougall & Pyke Construction Ltd., $10,000; Patent Development Co. Ltd., $25,000; and Sound Construction Ltd., $50,000.

Island Credits Ltd., $10,000; Mission City, and Mitchell & Currie Ltd., $50,000, Prince Rupert, were registered from elsewhere in the province.

Under the Societies Act, Fruitvale Ratepayers Association and the Kinsmen Club of Kamloops were registered.

Provincial Police reported last night that a taxi, no passengers, driven by Douglas Atkins, 640 Francis Street, went into the ditch and turned over on the Island Highway near the Solarium. He said he did this to avoid a crash when a sedan car going in the opposite direction crossed over the double line just at the time when a truck came onto the scene. The truck driver helped him out. Atkins was uninjured aside from a bad shaking up.

Residents of the Aged Men's Home were entertained at a picture show given by Bdr. West at the Home Wednesday evening. Pictures shown included "Trails of B.C." and a number of comic features.

"From the over-all position, in so far as member hospitals are concerned, most of the budgetary worries would be eliminated by the adoption of a comprehensive insurance scheme. May I again recommend to you, the consideration of appropriate resolutions in this regard."

HOSPITAL RATES

Mr. Fisher told his audience that many hospitals have raised the rates per day for public ward care to $4.50 and that at least one hospital is now charging $5 a day.

"Rates such as these are possible of collection when the economic cycle is good," he said, but added, "However, any recession in the volume of employment and high wages, will have a telling effect upon hospital budgets, particularly with regard to fixed costs."

He stated that negotiations have been proceeding throughout the year with the Workmen's Compensation Board, but so far, no increased payments have been authorized. Dissatisfaction with the attitude of the Department of Indian Affairs was expressed by Mr. Fisher who stated the department was still adverse to dealing with the association and to granting of uniform rates. He said that during the past year, many institutions had been granted higher per day rates for the care of Indian patients.

"It is indeed an extraordinary situation when a department such as that will not consider a revision of rates except under the threat of a refusal to accept Indian patients," Mr. Fisher said.

NURSES' SALARIES

Referring to matter of nurses' salaries, he said that he was informed most hospitals were now paying a basic minimum wage of $140 a month.

"The increase in the salary rates, together with the increased cost of supplies is making it more and more difficult to keep institutional expenditure in line with institutional revenue."

Reports were also given by J. E. O'Mahony, treasurer, and E. W. Neel, secretary. The convention will conclude Friday afternoon.

He Was Too Tipsy

A young man who was brought from the cells and placed in the prisoner's dock in city police court today and had a charge read against him of assaulting his father last night was still in such an unsteady condition that City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison asked for a remand to tomorrow. Magistrate H. C. Hall agreed.

Before leaving the dock, the young fellow looked out over the courtroom, smiled in a hazy manner and remarked with an all-embracing hand motion, "goodbye everybody."

Warn Mariners On Procedure During Submarine Exercises

In connection with the visit here of the U.S. submarine Queenfish, W. L. Stamford, agent for the Department of Transport, advises mariners that anti-submarine exercises will be carried out from eight in the morning to five in the afternoon daily except Sundays from today to Nov. 8 inclusive.

The exercises will be carried out in an area bounded by the following positions: (a) Latitude 48 degrees, 20 minutes north; longitude 123 degrees, 54 minutes west; (b) latitude 48 degrees, 17.5 minutes north; longitude 123 degrees, 40 minutes west; (c) latitude 48 degrees, 16 minutes north; longitude 123 degrees, 54 minutes west; (d) latitude 48 degrees, 13.6 minutes north; longitude 123 degrees, 40 minutes west.

Attention is drawn to the following warning signal which is in use to denote the presence of submarines: "Vessels fly a rectangular red flag to denote that submarines may be submerged, are in the vicinity."

Vessels are cautioned to steer so as to give a wide berth to any vessel flying such a flag. If from any cause it is necessary to approach her, the vessel should proceed at slow speed until warning is given of the danger zone by flags, semaphore, megaphone, etc., a good look-out being kept meanwhile for submarines whose presence may be only indicated by periscopes showing above water.

A submarine submerged at a depth too great to show her periscope may sometimes indicate her position by releasing a smoke-candle which gives off a considerable volume of smoke on first reaching the surface.

General Hospitals Should State Services To Public

Hospitals should commence to educate the public to the fact that the advancing age of specialization demands that the services, appropriate to a general hospital, should be definitely limited to the care of persons who can be cured or improved by the use of the facilities the hospital provides, Percy Ward, chief inspector of hospitals, told the 30th annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, in Empress Hotel, today.

"To accept and to continue indefinitely to maintain persons for whom nothing medical or surgical can be done can have no other result than to pull down the quality of service necessary to save lives," Mr. Ward said.

He asked the audience to consider whether the time had not come for hospitals to state publicly what services they were equipped to give, and what types of services were definitely not appropriate to general hospital work.

He said such a move might help toward solving of hospitals' financial problems.

"The year 1947 has been marked by a further spiral of upward costs," Mr. Ward said. "To meet this situation the hospitals have been compelled to raise their rates, sometimes more than once, until they are wondering if any further raise in charges can be justified, even if costs continue to rise."

Brilliant Spanish Dances Presented At Royal Theatre

By AUDREY S.L.D. JOHNSON

Rhythmic crackle of castanets, beautiful Spanish music, stunning costumes; these made the framework and settings within which Federico Rey and Lolita Gomez painted pictures of Spain in glowing color, incomparable grace of movement, vivid mime. The program, presented at the Royal Theatre Wednesday night, featured as well, petite Tina Ramirez and two distinguished instrumentalists: Pablo Miquel, pianist, and Carlos Montoya, guitarist.

The typical native rhythms of Spain were brilliantly emphasized with stamping heels and tapping toes. The graduations in this technique alone, ranging from passionate vigor to delicate fast patter, illustrated the nuance of the music, the character and changing mood of the dance. The faultless co-ordination of graceful, supple bodies endowed every sequence with a crystal clarity of form and expression that is rare.

Frederico Rey is, at one moment, all wonderfully articulated springs and India rubber, at another a disembodied spirit, scornful to touch the stage with his charmed feet, at still another, delighting the audience with light touches of gamn humor.

Words are poor things with which to attempt to describe the spirit, fire and grace of Lolita Gomez. There is no moment at which she is not the living essence of her dance. In "El Amor Brujo," with music by de Falla and choreography created by Miss Gomez, her mime was vivid and moving, expressing tragedy, fear and joy.

Seventeen-year-old Tina Ramirez won her audience completely with her brilliant performance of "Fandangillo." This was among several numbers, encased with wild enthusiasm.

The three dancers were teamed in some of the most electrifying moments, such as the exquisite, colorful "El Pelele," inspired by a Goya painting with music by Granados; in the Flamenco Dances, in which they were accompanied by the guitarist, and in the final Albeniz "Aragon."

Lolita Gomez and Federico Rey presented a charming and humorous Spanish gay nineties number in "Cafe Cantante." Tina Ramirez was teamed with Mr. Rey in the expressive "Scene from Old Madrid."

Such a pianist as Pablo Miquel is surely a unique and indispensable asset to this group of artists. Not only did he play the entire program from memory, in itself an achievement, but his gifts place him in the highest ranks of concert pianists. He appeared all too briefly as soloist, playing "Malaguena" by Lecuna and, as an encore, "Dance of the Shepherdess" by the Spanish composer, Ernesto Haffter.

Carlos Montoya is a guitarist extraordinary. A virtuoso, whose supple fingers drew unsuspected beauties of modulation and tone from his instrument. Under the hands of this artist, the delicate notes were warm and fiery or cool and sparkling as frost. He was welcomed joyously in two solo groups and repeatedly encored.

Bracken Winds Up 3-Day Island Visit

Winding up a three-day tour of Vancouver Island, John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, today addressed a luncheon meeting in Nanaimo at the Malaspina Hotel. After addressing the luncheon sponsored by Nanaimo Conservatives, Mr. Bracken proceeded to Vancouver.

Wednesday Mr. Bracken spent at Lake Cowichan accompanied by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, provincial party leader, and G. R. Pearkes, Nanaimo M.P.

The party, conducted by Carlton Stone, president of the Hillcrest Lumber Co. Ltd., Mesachie Lake; W. F. Grosskley, Lake Cowichan, village commissioner, and J. H. Boyd, visited the War-time Housing Ltd. project there where 100 homes are being built.

Later the party went to lunch at the cookhouse of the Hillcrest Lumber Co. and then went by speeder to see the woods operations of the company. Truck logging operations were also visited by Mr. Bracken.

Mr. Bracken complimented those responsible for the initiative in bringing about the great change in living conditions for industrial workers, claiming that the improvement lends stability.

Mr. Anscomb said that the project was an eye-opener to him. He described it as a real development under free enterprise and a great indication of what could be done with a spirit of conquest.

Bar Group Welcomes Judge Wood Here

Members of the Bar Association and Law Society welcomed Mr. Justice H. S. Wood to Victoria at a ceremony held at the courthouse this morning. His Lordship, former chief magistrate of Vancouver, was recently appointed Supreme Court judge and sat for the first time in a Victoria court today.

Speaking on behalf of the Bar Association of Victoria, J. B. Clearihue, K.C., said the appointment of Mr. Justice Wood was made at a time "when our system of democracy was being tested."

"The enforcement of the rule of law and justice is the only secure way of maintaining our democratic system," he said. "I am certain your decisions will be tempered with wisdom."

W. C. Moreshy, K.C., representing the Victoria Bench, and R. A. Wooten, speaking on behalf of the Junior Bar, also welcomed the new judge.

Immediately after the ceremony, the judge heard his first case in Victoria, involving Karma Singh, who claims $10,000 in damages from Biss Singh for injuries sustained when he was allegedly assaulted by the defendant on Burnside Road.

The defendant, Biss Singh, has entered a counter-claim and is asking for $15,000 for injuries.

H. W. Davey, K.C., is counsel for the plaintiff, while H. B. Clearihue, K.C., is representing the defendant.

Town Topics

This afternoon the public works committee inspected wood yards throughout the city to determine the extent to which new licenses for their operation should be issued, or re-issued, and in what areas they should be allowed to remain.

Edward Hunt, Toronto, Ont., was sentenced to one year at hard labor by Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning when he appeared in city police court for sentence on a charge of theft of clothing from Bert Yesowick, Westholme Hotel, on Oct. 24.

Two petitions were received by the city today for improved street lighting. James R. Norris, 823 Reid Street, asked that lights be provided in the new Topaz Heights subdivision; and 38 signatories of a petition asked better lighting conditions on Claxthorpe Avenue, near the Saanich border.

Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning in city police court remanded George W. Wittig to tomorrow for sentence when accused pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of a wrist watch under the value of $25, the property of W. A. Richards, 2744 Prior Street. Detectives P. W. Richards and Fearon Woodburn made the arrest following investigation. Detective Richards said accused sold the watch for $3.

A limited number of tickets to tomorrow's meeting of the Canadian Club of Victoria will be made available to the general public, it was announced today by J. D. Munro, club president. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. J. J. Paul Martin, Minister of Health and Welfare. Tickets will be on sale at Diggon's during the morning. The meeting will be held in the Empress Hotel at noon.

Retail Merchants To Meet Friday On Transit Issue

A special meeting of the Retail Merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce has been called for 11 o'clock Friday morning to consider the transportation strike and what action, if any, can be taken by the merchants to bring about its settlement or to induce government agencies to do so.

The Retail Merchants' section is made up of approximately 160 businessmen in Victoria. Wednesday the organization of a special committee of merchants was started to demand the immediate settlement of the strike. However, today they are prepared to await results of the mayors' conference in Vancouver before taking any further action.

Mayor Percy George has gone to Vancouver to meet Acting Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver and Mayor William Mott of New Westminster.

Today the Labor-Progressive Party sent a letter to Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the city transportation committee, asking assurance that any move to obtain a fare increase by the B.C.E.R. following settlement of the strike will be strongly opposed.

The letter set out six reasons why the organization felt no fare increase should be necessary, even if the strikers' demands are met in full.

They request permission to appear before the transportation committee or the City Council and put forth their representations.

Lighter Sentence For Convicted Tourist To Leave Country

The young man who was found guilty yesterday on two counts of indecent acts against young women and one of common assault was fined $120, or in default, 70 days in jail, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court this morning.

One of the indecent acts and the common assault charge occurred in darkness on the city streets, the other indecent act in daylight hours.

Joseph McKenna, defence counsel, asked for suspended sentence on the grounds that accused was a U.S. citizen, that his mother and father, here on business, had promised to take him back south of the border immediately.

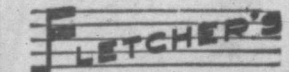

The magistrate said, as it was accused's first offence, he did not feel disposed to impose a jail sentence. "I will give an opportunity to pay a fine, but on the understanding that he will be taken back to the United States right away."

The fine was paid.

Totalitarianism Denounced By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius today denounced postwar totalitarianism, which, he said, sought to submit church to state, although he declared it an error to believe the two could be entirely separate.

"The same arguments which today are used by new rulers to combat her persevering action in yesterday adduced against the church in its fight for the defence of Divine rights, and of just dignity and human liberty behalf of truth and justice," he said. The temperature of the planet Saturn is estimated at 238 degrees below zero.

Young Sweethearts In 'High Barbaree'

There's a new romantic screen twosome at M-G-M.

Eleven-year-old Claude Jarman Jr. and eleven-year-old Joan Wells, after making movie debuts as juvenile sweethearts in "The Yearling," are sparking again as sweethearts in "High Barbaree," new M-G-M picture currently at the Oak Bay Theatre, with Van Johnson and June Allyson co-starred.

Claude plays Van as a child, and little Joan enacts Miss Allyson in her pigtail days in the new story, which shifts from the childhood romance of a couple of midwestern kids to their romantic conflict as adults.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Lovely young Jane Greer, after two short years in Hollywood, has achieved stardom in RKO Radio's new drama, "They Won't Believe Me," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre. She was last seen in "Sinbad the Sailor" as Maureen O'Hara's slave-companion. Although the role was little more than a bit, studio executives saw a quality in her performance which denoted that she was ready for bigger things, and her present starring role resulted.

World's First Jet Flying-Boat Fighter Successfully Tested

Britain's Saunders-Roe, SR-A1 jet-propelled flying-boat fighter, the first one of its type in the world, was successfully tested recently over the Solent, between the British mainland and the Isle of Wight. The single-seat SR-A1 is 50 feet long and has a wing span of 46 feet. Two jet engines are housed within the hull, permitting a better-shaped plane and concentrating their weight around the centre of gravity. Designed by Mr. Henry Knowler (left), the plane has a pressurized pilot's cabin, equipped with four cannons and an ejector-type seat from which the pilot can jettison himself in an emergency by simply pressing a button.

Morgan Says He Cannot Afford To Live In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Henry Morgan, radio's funny man, is not joking when he says he'll be glad to leave Hollywood.

"I can't afford to live here," he said, explaining that he can't stand the high real estate prices. The comic came out here to appear in "So This Is New York" and first was housed in a $30-a-day hotel room. Later he was able to find a $30-a-month apartment which has one bedroom. But housing isn't the only reason he's sour on Hollywood.

"The traffic is the worst I've seen," he said. "Every day I drive to work I see about two wrecks. The people drive like crazy people. Atomic warfare should hold no terror for these drivers."

Some visitors admire our weather, but even that doesn't please Morgan. Said he: "The weather is bad in the winter in New York, but it's bad here, too. So why should I stay?"

But lest he close the door forever, the comedian added, "of course, the picture may turn out to be fair, and I'd think, 'well, I might have done it better.' You can't tell."

MORE CHEERFUL
More enthusiastic about Hollywood is Lotte Lehmann, whom I found on "The Big City" set. The noted concert singer said she was thrilled to be doing her first straight role. In the film she'll sing Brahms' Lullaby, the Kerry dance and "God Bless America," which, she said, "expresses my sentiments."

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS
Bing Crosby giving the brush-off to photographers who sought his picture at NBC; the groaner just won't pose... Deanna Durbin doing a "bump" under her hoop skirt costume... Jack Carson lurching at Lakeside Country Club in his clown make-up... Red Skelton munching at a Vine Street hot dog stand, which he prefers to the swank restaurants.

'Farmer's Daughter' Showing At Atlas.
An unusual romance, laid against the exciting setting of a congressional election, is the inspiration for RKO Radio's sparkling new comedy-drama, "The Farmer's Daughter," starring Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore, and now at the Atlas Theatre.

Principal supporting players are Charles Bickford, Rose Hobart and Tom Powers.

Sea Mystery

Victim of what Scotland Yard believes is a high seas murder mystery is English actress Eileen (Gay) Gibson (above), who disappeared from the liner Durban Castle off west Africa. When the ship docked, British police field a steward as they probed the theory the actress had been strangled and her body pushed through a porthole.

ROYAL THEATRE

In scripting the screen play for Twentieth Century-Fox's technicolor hit, "Mother Wore Tights," which is currently at the Royal Theatre, Producer-writer Lamar Trotti couldn't resist the temptation of some tongue-in-cheek humor when he observed several terrific possibilities in the stars involved and the time of the story.

In one scene of the story, Betty Grable, in the title role, is asked by husband Dan Dailey to rejoin their vaudeville act, although she had been in retirement for 10 years, raising their two children.

"Why, oh why," asks Betty plaintively, "did I have to be born with legs?"

Row Over Polish Girl Workers Ends

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian-Polish diplomatic stir over charges of Polish interference with girl immigrants to Canada blew itself out today in the higher levels of diplomacy and apparently became a closed issue with a Polish statement denying responsibility.

Dr. A. R. Bielski, Polish charge d'affaires here, has denied two Polish girl immigrants were lured to a job on a Polish-language Communist newspaper in Toronto by a stenographer from the legation and said the stenographer merely approached the immigrants to offer any help after they had decided to take the job. Dr. Bielski added, however, that the legation employee had been warned against any recurrence of such incidents.

Disclosure of the Canadian-Polish diplomatic exchange in the matter came Wednesday when the department issued a statement after conducting an investigation into a complaint made by Armand Sylvestre, deputy chief commissioner of the Board of Transport Commissioners. A Polish girl employed as a maid in his home was one of the two immigrants involved.

'A Stolen Life' On York Screen

Bette Davis, starring in "A Stolen Life," Warner Bros. picture now at the York Theatre, is supposed to paint a portrait of Walter Brennan, a grizzled old lighthouse keeper on a lonely, wind-swept island. The painting was originally completed by Alexander Rosenfeld, since Bette herself is not as proficient with palette and brush as with the spoken word and registered emotions.

$110,000 Payroll Robbery At Boston; 6 Thugs Escape

BOSTON (AP)—Five masked bandits held up a factory office today and took a $110,000 payroll.

The men, two of them armed with sawed-off shotguns, walked into the offices of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Hyde Park only 15 minutes after an armored truck had delivered the money in small bills.

When some of the office workers indicated they thought it a prank, one of the robbers shouted menacingly: "This is no Halo-ween party."

The robbers escaped in a large sedan in which a sixth member of the band had waited at the wheel.

One of the bandits wore a gunysack over his head. Two had harlequin masks over the upper parts of their faces. The others had makeshift masks.

Two of the men went directly to the switchboard and ordered the two telephone operators away from their places.

One of them broke all connections and herded the operators into the main office, where 20 employees were ordered to lie down with their faces to the floor.

Two other bandits went directly to a large vault, where paymaster R. W. Marshall and five employees sat around a table, just beginning to count the money for the pay envelopes of 2,000 employees.

Vessel In Peril in Mindanao Sea

MANILA (AP)—Towering seas whipped by the winds of a typhoon frustrated attempts today to rescue 26 crew members and one or more passengers from the stricken motorship FS277, in distress in Butuan Bay in the Mindanao Sea.

Another ship reported this afternoon that the 270-ton inter-island freighter was "in a sinking condition very close offshore." Ahead of the distressed vessel lay rocky cliffs.

Southern Britain In Grip Of Winter

LONDON (CP)—The icy hand of winter fell on Britain Wednesday night with Abingdon, Oxfordshire, reporting six degrees of frost and London in the grip of frost and fog.

The temperature in the metropolitan area fell to 38, its lowest since last April, and this morning train, road, air and river traffic was snarled. Fog covered the eastern part of the country.

Manufacturer Urges Customs Coalition Between Canada, U.S.

MONTREAL (CP)—A customs coalition between Canada and the United States might be more satisfactory to both countries than their present tariff systems, D. P. Hatch of Montreal, president of the Canadian Exporters Association, said in his report at the association's annual meeting today.

He added, however, that any scheme for a progressive customs union "is without meaning unless we make it a cardinal point in our negotiations that our joint protective barriers against the rest of the world will be reduced brick by brick over a limited number of years to something like a nominal or ordinary revenue level."
